Allies Beat Off Axis Attacks In North Tunisia

'The Fox' Burning Supplies And Blowing Up Airports As He Retreats; Eisenhower's Troops Advance On 36-Mile Front

(By the Associated Press)

New fighting raged on the long-stalemated front in northern Tunisia today as allied troops beat off tank-led axis attacks in four sectors of the Tunis-Bizerte zone, while on the central front the Germans were reported burning stores and blowing up airports in their retreat.

"The fighting continues," said a bulletin from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters, referring to the new eruption in the north.

"In the Mareth sector, forward elements of the British Eighth army established positions immediately south of the Mareth line without serious opposition," the communique said.

Kasserine Retaken

Dispatches from allied headquarters said victorious American and British troops reoccupied the town of Kasserine and advanced on an airfield 15 miles to the southwest—apparently the Thelepte field on the outskirts of Feriana.

Front line reports said the allies were continuing to pursue the fleeing tank columns of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in the area north of Kasserine and were striking out on a 36-mile arc.

"The lull in the northern sector was broken yesterday by a series of enemy attacks in the areas of Djebel Mansour, Bou Arada and south of Medjez-El-Bab, all of which were successfully repulsed by allied fighters," a communique said.

400 Prisoners Seized

More than 400 axis prisoners were captured in driving back tank-supported enemy attacks in the Mateur-Beja valley, it was announced.

Mateur is 20 miles southwest of the big axis-held naval base at Bizerte; Beja is 55 miles southwest.

Medjez-El-Bab lies 35 miles southwest of Tunis, the capital.

Simultaneously, Italian headquarters reported intense aerial activity over northern Tunisia in the Tunis-Bizerte sector where Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's British First has been bogged

Ceilings To Be Put On Meat

...Effective Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(INS)—Dollar and cent ceiling prices on retail meat will be clamped down next Tuesday, it was disclosed today by department of agriculture sources.

This action will be taken to equalize prices in order that the meat rationing program can go into effect, and to curb black market operations, it was said.

At the same time, meat will be rushed to shortage areas on the east and west coast to relieve the critical situations there, a department spokesman revealed.

Small Price Change.

The ceilings will not change the general price levels much, according to the agriculture schedule, but will result in an overall equalization in which some very high prices will come down and lower prices will be raised.

It is understood that the meat price ceilings will be divided into three classifications according to other measures taken to ration and stabilize food.

These will be divided into super market prices, ordinary

Novelist Parrott Is Freed

...BY MIAMI JURY

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27—(AP)—A Federal court jury today acquitted Novelist Ursula Parrott of charges of impairing the loyalty and discipline of the armed forces and aiding and concealing a deserter by driving a good-looking private out of an army stockade concealed in the rear of her automobile.

The all-male jury was out of the courtroom only 12 minutes.

After first declining any statement, Mrs. Parrott later told newsmen:

"I am awfully happy. I plan to go back to work, back to writing," adding that she was "too keyed up" to take a rest now.

Earlier, on advice of counsel, she had declined any statement.

In a 40-minute statement Federal Judge John W. Holland told jurors that they could not find Mrs. Parrott guilty of aiding a deserter if they decided that Pvt. Michael Neely Bryan, 26, had no intention of deserting the army when he left the stockade for 24 hours of freedom in the author's company last Dec. 28.

Mrs. Parrott, 40, could not be legally accused of impairing the discipline and loyalty of the armed forces, the judge added, unless the jury decided it was her intent to undermine the morale and loyalty of all the troops stationed at Miami Beach.

Spectators crowded around to congratulate the author as soon as the verdict was read.

Griswold Signs Two More Bills; Total 29

With Governor Griswold signing LB 28 and LB 83 Saturday, executive aproval has been given 29 measures, with no vetoes.

Under the provisions of LB 28 the Omaha university board of regents is permitted to set up a retirement annuity plan for its staff of 110 employes.

LB 83, introduced by Senator Anderson, requires that all Nebraska county courts shall open on the first Monday of the month and shall continue through the month.

Ration Registration Winds Up Saturday

It's all over now!

More than 80,000 Lincoln men, women and children have their war ration book No. 2, with the registration centers closing shop at 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

It was a hectic and busy week, OPA headquarters reported, but, everything considered, things went off smoothly. The public took it all in good nature, and considering their brief period of training, members of the various staffs at the schools where applications were taken and books issued, did a remarkably fine job.

A few, as always, neglected to secure books, or could not do so because they had no No. 1 book. Just what is to be done in such cases was not stated Saturday.

FLOUR PRICE HIKED

...Ceiling On Soft Wheat Prepared

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—The office of price administration today granted a 60 cent per barrel increase in prices of soft wheat flour and announced a forthcoming ceiling on the price of soft wheat. Soft wheat flour is used largely for crackers, biscuits and pastry.

The ceiling on soft wheat, the first on any type of wheat, has been requested by James F. Byrnes, director of economic stabilization and will be set, OPA said, "approximately at market levels which prevailed in the middle of the week and are slightly higher than parity."

Ceiling Being Drafted

The actual ceiling is still being drafted and will not be issued for a few days, although the price level to be incorporated in the order has been determined.

The soft wheat flour order, expected eventually to cause a slight increase in the retail price of crackers, cakes, etc., applied to

Growth Plans Of Army May Be Lessened

...By 1 to 3 Million Men

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Convinced that the nation's 1943 military, armament and food production targets are beyond the manpower range, a senate investigating committee today explored the possbility of cutting armed service expansion by one to three million men.

Despite assertion from an army deputy chief of staff that reduction of the army's 8,200,000 goal by 1,000,000 would make "probability" of losing the war "much greater," committee members instructed War Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt to prepare plans portraying effects of varying decreases in military strength.

These plans, a member of a senate appropriations subcommittee said, are expected to show feasibility of limiting the projected armed service size of 10,700,000 this year to 10,000,000 men, 9,000,000 or even 8,000,000.

Should it appear possible to reduce the proposed military strength without impairing allied strategy, a committee member said, the group is likely to recommend curbing military appropriations if necessary to restrict the armed forces' growth.

Testifying in the committee's manpower investigations, Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy of staff, said an army of 8,200,00 by December is a requirement.

Would Hit Strategy.

"If on account of a failure in shipping or in the capacity of the nation to produce and to maintain an adequate economy, you had to take a million off of that eight million, what about the strategy?" asked Senator Burton (R.-Ohio).

"It probably would fail," replied McNarney. "As stated before, the last thing that should be done is to reduce the strength of the armed forces, because after all the primary purpose of the United States at the moment is to win the war x x x."

Pvt. Ray Abbott, Lincoln, Killed In Action Abroad

Pvt. Ray Castle Abbott, son of Mrs. Etta Abbott, 3709 North Eleventh street, was killed in action Feb. 11 on an unidentified foreign battle front, according to word received by his mother from the war department.

Pvt. Abbott, 30 years old, attended Belmont school.

Besides his mother, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Lavone Booksigler of Lincoln, and a half-brother, Pvt. Reuben Hiatt of Lincoln, now stationed at New Albuquerque, N. Mex.

Tales of Cattle Rustling Fables

OMAHA, Feb. 27—(AP)—Despite the black market the cattle rustler is a vanishing—or vanished—frontier character in Nebraska, stockmen and enforcement officials agreed today. Queried regarding a report from the American meat institute in Chicago that rustling is on the upgrade, Sec. H. H. Selleck of the Nebraska Stock Growers' association and Sec. Charles Feagin of the Nebraska brand committee declared the opposite is true. Both Feagin and Selleck are of Alliance.

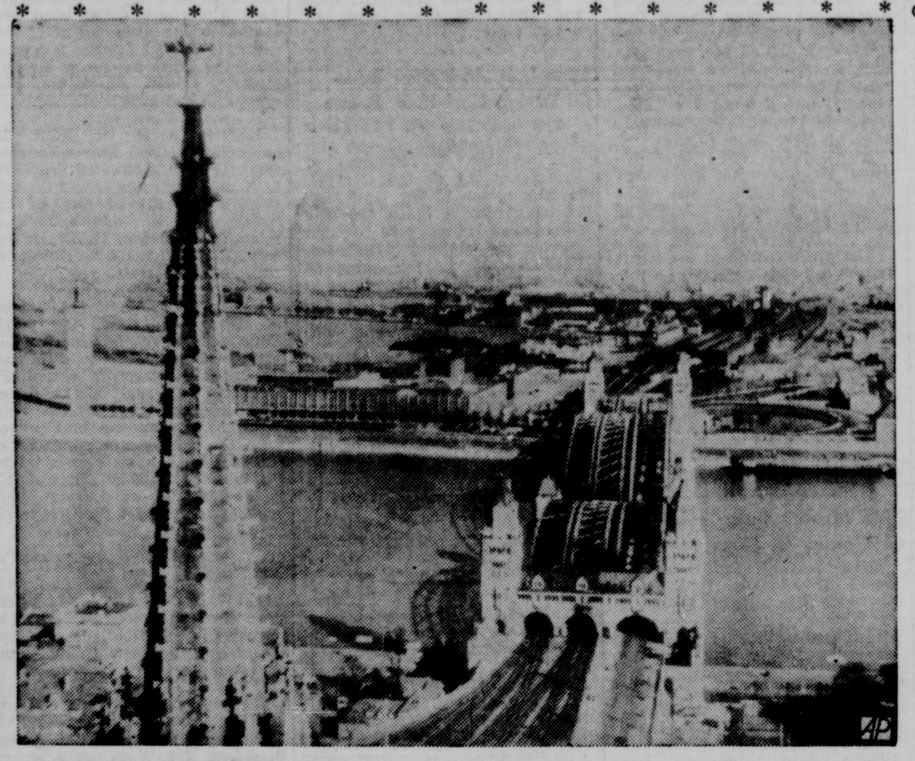

"There were some reports of cattle rustling six weeks ago, but most of them proved erroneous," Selleck said. "Since then we have received fewer complaints than a year ago."

Feagin attributed the decrease in rustling largely to the vigilance of the brand committee's special investigator, E. E. Clark of North Platte, and Clark's assistants. Several rustlers, Feagin said, are in the state penitentiary.

In Lincoln, State Sheriff L. D. Mengel said a few cattle have been stolen in the past few months "and we think some of them may have been taken for the black market." He said, however, most of the losses occurred not in western Nebraska where the large herds are, but in eastern counties.

Cologne Blasted By Great Bomber Force

New Raid On Western Germany Heaviest Since 1,000-Plane Attack Last Spring; Mosquitoes Smash At Rennes

LONDON, Feb. 27—(INS)—British heavy bombers smashed at oft-bombed Cologne in western Germany during the night in an unusually heavy assault, the air ministry announced today. The raid completed a 24-hour round-the-clock raids on the reich and occupied Europe that has not been equalled in its sustained intensity, observers said.

Good results were seen at Cologne, an air ministry announcement said. Bombs also were dropped at other objectives in western Germany, while fighter planes attacked railroads in northern France.

The attack came just 24 hours after a devastating raid on the south German city of Nuremburg, and a series of daylight raids by American Fortresses and Liberators on the north German port of Wilhelmshaven, and RAF smashes at Dunkirk, on the French coast, and the submarine supply depot at Rennes, in Brittany.

It was officially announced that in the past 48 hours fighters and bombers, coastal command planes and army co-operation command aircraft had carried out over 2,000 operational sorties covering about 500,000 miles.

Weather Clear

"Cologne was very heavily attacked during the night," said the air ministry announcement.

"The weather was clear but a ground haze obscured the targets.

"Anti-aircraft defenses again were on a moderate scale, and only a few enemy fighters were sighted.

"Ten of our bombers are missing."

Last night's raid was reported to have been the heaviest since the mass raids were unleashed on Germany with a 1,000-plane attack on Cologne last spring.

Most Bombed Point

This city is now the most bombed point in Europe. It has been raided 113 times, and at least two of the mass raids were the heaviest in the history of warfare, both in point of number of planes participating and the tonnage of high explosives and incendiaries loosed on the battered city.

Despite wholesale evacuations following the smashing raids last year, it is believed that the city's population is still around half a million.

The Germans are known also to have undertaken gigantic repair programs to get its vast war industries in operation again.

Berlin admitted that a "big industrial city" in western Germany had been bombed during the night, but made its usual claim that damage was limited to residential areas and casualties restricted to civilian population.

The night raid by the speedy

75 Men Trapped

...IN COAL MINE

BEARCREEK, Mont., Feb. 27—(AP)—Seventy-five miners were trapped today in the Smith Coal Co. mine at 10 a. m. mountain war time, (11 a. m. CWT) apparently by an explosion, Bill Romek, company manager, reported today.

No contact has been made with men inside the mine since smoke pouring from the entrance gave the first sign of trouble, Romek related.

He expressed fear that all in the mine had been killed. The body of one miner was recovered from an inactive vein of the mine. Three other men, still alive but in critical condition, were rescued from the same vein.

Smoke and gas poured so thickly from the mine entrance that no rescue force has yet been able to enter.

Mine rescue crews are being flown by airplane from Butte to Billings.

Big Six Decides Carry On In '43

...Students Taking War Training May Compete

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27—(AP)—Big Six conference faculty representatives and athletic directors decided today to continue intercollegiate athletics, with the provision that students assigned for training in the armed forces would be eligible to participate.

The conference lett members free to work out their respective schedules.

Competition will be restricted to teams from educational institutions of college level and the armed forces. Collegiate students, to be eligible, must carry at least 12 hours of work.

The agreement will become effective March 1.

Dr. H. H. King of Kansas State college said last night the conference might decide today to abandon competition for the duration.

Estimate 400 or More in First Army Unit at U. N.

Engineering Courses Are Expected To Start About March 15

Definite word had not been received up to Saturday noon, by the University of Nebraska, regarding the exact date the new army training program would begin at that institution, nor as to the number of men who would be included in the tentatively planned engineering unit, Chancellor C. S. Boucher stated. It is his belief, he said, that probably about 400, or more, would be in the first group to take the engineering course, and that some of these would be freshmen or sophomores from other institutions. Juniors and seniors probably would be allowed to remain with the institution they are now attending, though their status would change from that of private students into that of army men undergoing strict army training. The program is expected to start about March 15.

University of Nebraska is one of thirteen institutions tentatively named as equipped to give engineering courses. Others mentioned in an Associated Press dispatch, are: North Dakota University, South Dakota state college, University of Minnesota, State University of Iowa, Iowa State college, Washington University at St. Louis, University of Missouri, Kansas University, Kansas State college, Colorado School of Mines, Colorado State college and University of Wyoming. However, negotiations have not been completed with any of them.

Army officers recently have visited the University of Nebraska campus, inspecting facilities. That the new Don Love library may be converted into a dormitory for men is a possibility, but even that is not definite.

A program of physical training of at least six hours weekly will be part of the training. Engineering courses will be divided into several classifications, with emphasis on those phases most useful in combat service.

An attempt will be made, when the program definitely is inaugurated, to have as little dislocation of present campus activities as possible; but the transfer of many present University of Nebraska students to other schools, and the arrival of others here, is bound to make many readjustments necessary, it was stated.

140 Seniors Inducted

They're "in the army now."

"They" are 140 members of the R. O. T. C., of the University of Nebraska, who yesterday journeyed to the induction center at Fort Crook, Omaha, to be sworn in.

From now on, although remaining at the university until the end of the semester, they will be members of the enlisted reserve corps and subject to military rules and discipline. All those inducted are seniors.

Navy Reports One Nebraskan Dead; Another Wounded

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—The navy announced today 60 casualties in navy forces, including 12 dead, 13 wounded and 35 missing. This brings to 23,825 the total of navy, marine corps and coast guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 6,686 dead, 4,511 wounded and 12,628 missing.

The casualties announced today include two Nebraskans:

Coleman, Kenneth L., marine, wounded. Mother, Mrs. Mabel E. Coleman, Alliance.

Cox, Kenneth L., marine, dead. (Previously reported missing on navy casualty list No. 4, released June 1, 1942.) Father, L. J. Cox, Fairbury.

Special Group To Ask Action On Farm Front

...Will Go To FDR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(INS)—A special committee of 48 congressmen, representing every state in the union, was organized today to carry direct to President Roosevelt the demands of the "farm bloc" for increased aid for agriculture to produce needed food.

Some 60 house members from the dominant farm states, called committee, authorized the comtogether by a bi-partisan special mittee of 48 to make a representative appeal to the white house for action on the agricultural front.

The group voted that each state name one member to the committee.

Wants Quotas Removed.

The committee was authorized "how to present the farm problem to the president or anybody else," in the words of Rep. Lemke (R-N.D.), chairman of the seven-member organizing committee set up earlier this week.

Rep. Vinson, (D-Ga.,) urged that when the committee sees Mr. Roosevelt, or the secretary of agriculture, it should seek removal of quotas on all agricultural commodities.

"I believe we should present to the president the one serious problem confronting the farmer—that of continual regimentation," Vinson told the meeting. "The American farmer should be given the right to conduct his farm as he thinks it can best be conducted."

Finance Next Problem For State Solons

..Appropriations Bill May Appear in 2 Weeks

"I'll bet a new hat we'll have the appropriations bill out within two weeks."

That's the statement of Senator H. G. Greenamyre, who, as chairman of the appropriations committee, has hustled his group along in business-like fashion with its daily meetings since the outset of the 1943 legislative session.

The appearance of the oppropriations bill on the floor generally is the signal for the standing committees to conclude their work in a hurry and for the overall tempo to beat increasingly.

Some members agree that the adjournment date is only a month or so away after the appripriations committee has completed its work.

Sees Work Ahead.

"But I don't agree to that this year," says Greenamyre, a Norfolk attorney. "There are many bills that will demand a great deal of consideration before we're through.

"I'd guess we'd wind up our affairs by May 1 at the latest."

Principal concern left for the appropriations committee is the appropriation for the University of Nebraska, scheduled to come up next week.

Because of the uncertainty as to how the army plans fit into the university picture, Greenamyre says, "We'll have to set up the

GOTTA hoe?

YOU MAY BE KING OF YOUR BLOCK

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—The man with the hoe will be the king of his block, if he's the owner of a fork and a spade, he can write his own ticket.

That, in a pumpkin shell, is the garden tool situation in this year of grace when a patch of arable land is more greatly to be desired than a diamond stomacher.

"The way things are going, a garden fork is going to be as extinct as the dodo," declared David Platt of Max Schling, seedsmand.

"There is plenty of demand for them — shovels, forks, spades, rakes and hoes—but we can't get them."

Post-War Planning Speech Is Hailed

...BY BRITISH

LONDON, Feb. 27 — (AP) — British government quarters were authoritatively reported today to have welcomed the speech of undersecretary of State Sumner Welles in Toronto yesterday, in which Welles said the United States "intends at once" to open preliminary talks with its allies on post-war aims of the united nations.

The address was viewed in official quarters as a logical development of a post-war economic planning policy which already has been accepted.

the week-end IS ON A diet

THERE is just enough social sustenance on the week-end news diet to keep it from acquiring one big and bad headache. There are things going on, around and about, but no one chooses to talk about them, nor cares to have them talked about by anybody, i. e., the soc ed.

But since practically everything is down to a shoestring basis, as far as the number of guests and the party frills are concerned, the quietus on chatter concerning activity is not surprising.

About the only thing on hand at the moment, other than stag affairs and dinner groups that can't be talked about, is the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Mel Gulley will be host and hostess at the Cornhusker Continental buffet Sunday evening, honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. John Curtiss.

Eight guests have been invited, and following the dinner the group will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Devoe for an informal evening.

The press section at the legislature is being entertained this evening by Senators Carl Jeffors of Mullen, and Frank M. Mueller, Kearney, at the Lindell hotel. The members of the press and their wives will comprise the guest list.

Arriving Sunday from Denver will be Mrs. Victor Powers, who will spend some time as the house guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Kindy.

Miss Maxine Duis, Bride Of Gordon C. Pentz

Miss Maxine Duis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Duis, of Steele City, became the bride of Warrant Officer Gordon C. Pentz, the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Pentz of Joliet, Ill., at the North chapel of the Lincoln air base, on January 30, at 7 o'clock in the evening. Chaplain Thomas Payne read the nuptial lines.

Mrs. L. B. Blacksher was her sister's only attendant, and Lieut. Russell Ball served Warrant Officer Pentz as best man. Lieut. J. D. McCutchan and Lieut. G. J. Slowey were ushers.

Mrs. Pentz, given in marriage by her father, chose a black street length dress, rhinestone bracelets and clip, and black accessories. She wore an orchid in her hair.

The couple took a wedding trip to Joliet to visit Warrant Officer Pentz's mother. They are now residing in Lincoln.

Mrs. Pentz is a graduate of the Gradwohl school of Medical Technology and preceding her marriage was employed at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Warrant Officer Pentz is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and is now director of the 14th army air forces band, at the air base.

Out of town guests at the wedding were, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Blacksher of Plattsmouth, and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Duis of Steele City.

Extradition Fought By Man Who Stopped Check In Sheep Sale

Governor Griswold took under advisement the efforts of Wyoming authorities to obtain extradition papers on R. E. Hendricks, Kimball county sheep rancher.

The issue before the governor was whether or not Hendricks was attempting to defraud Dr. F. A. Dolan of Sheridan, Wyo., when he stopped payment on a check for a sheep sale.

Dr. Dolan sold Hendricks 400 head of sheep in Sheridan and shipped them to Scottsbluff. S. E. Torgeson, attorney for Hendricks, showed a veterinarian's report on the sheep when they reached Hendricks, which marked them as "old," anemic," and in poor condition. Hendricks asserted that many of the sheep were dying and stopped payment on a check. He had previously paid $400 on a $3,600 contract for them. Torgeson further pointed out that the money was in the bank for complete payment, had Hendricks felt it was a fair bargain.

The Wyoming authorities contended that Hendricks had fraudulent intentions at the time he wrote the check and further had no intention of completing his contract.

RIVETT AGAIN HEAD LUMBER MERCRANTS

OMAHA, Feb. 27—(AP)—H. L. Rivett of Omaha was reelected president of the Nebraska Lumber Merchants association yesterday. The group in convention here renamed Harold Holmquist of Oakland vice pesident and Phil Runion of Lincoln secetary.

In resolutions the merchants asked congress to determine as soon as possible the size of the army necessary for a speedy victory and recommended that OPA adjust the ceiling price on one inch common boards. Inequality between boards and common dimensions is chief cause of the scarcity of one inch boards, the resolution said.

In the desolution on the size of the nation's army, the group pointed out that most of the united nations "have not requested and will not need large forces of our army to aid in defense of their homes."

The merchants also adopted a resolution commending the work of Rubber Administrator William Jeffers and OPA Administrator Prentiss Brown.

Agencies Reach Accord In Farm Labor Program

...Groups Combine To Avoid Duplication

Agreement has been reached in the farm labor program by the terms of which all government agencies will co-operate to the fullest extent, it was reported Saturday. This, it is said, will eliminate overlapping or duplication of efforts. Agencies affected are the agricultural extension service, farm security administration, U. S. employment service, agricultural adjustment administration and the state office of education.

Extension service will be responsible for mobilization and placement of all local labor resources available in all counties, for the organization and management of a nation-wide program for the recruitment and use of non-farm youth for work on farms, for organization of a program to recruit non-farm women for appropriate farm work and for conducting a continuous educational drive to assist farmers in making the most efficient use of both skilled and inexperienced labor.

Labor Transportation

The farm security administration will be responsible for the transportation of labor where it is found necessary to meet the demand, for certification of areas both of supply and need, for subsistence of transported workers until they are placed and for assisting the office of education in training centers.

In all these duties farm security supervisors will co-operate with the employment service and with county agents.

The United States employment service will continue to mobilize workers in cities and towns for farm jobs, will act as a clearing house for the purpose of utilizing all available labor and will continue the voluntary representative plan so that there will be an individual in each community to act as registration and referral agent.

To Conduct Survey

Principal responsibility of the agricultural adjustment administration will be to conduct a survey of local labor recruitments and to make known the results of this survey to all other agencies. This agency also will co-operate in the utilizing of non-farm youth and non-farm women.

Training of non-farm youth and of farm laborers transported from other localities will be the chief function of the office of education, operating through the department of vocational education. Establishment of training centers, where deemed necessary, will also be the responsibility of this agency. In the case of non-farm youth the office of education will co-operate with the extension service in the matter of recruitment and assignment.

Representatives of all the agencies are co-operating with the employment service in placing selective service registrants on essential units.

TAVERN DRY BILL DRAWS FULL HOUSE

...Adjectives Fly As Measure Is Debated

A full house attended the public hearing Friday on LB 228, which would prohibit beer and liquor licensing of roadside taverns. Senator Tom Osborne, Bayard, introduced the bill.

Reporting there are 248 licenses now in effect, half of them located in six counties, Osborne told the judiciary committee that two-thirds of the sheriffs and county commissioners he had contacted by letter were in favor of banning these places outside the corporate limits of any city, town or village.

W. C. Fraser, attorney for the Nebraska Brewers, countered with the statement that the intention of the bill was to introduce a wedge for statewide prohibition and also national prohibition.

Petition Failed

Fraser told the committee the liquor commission was asking for no change and then he explained how the dry forces had circulated a petition to place the measure on the election ballot last fall, but had failed because some of the signers weren't qualified.

He introduced petitions bearing come 40,000 names which, he said, opposed the legislation and were gathered in the past four or five weeks.

Harold Wilson, head of the Allied Dry Forces in Nebraska; Clarence Miles, former Lincoln city attorney, and Rev. M. V. Oggel, Lincoln, appeared in favor of the bill.

Wilson said he recently had toured a number of the roadside taverns and had found unhealthy conditions. As for increasing bootlegging by the proposal, he maintained there always had been bootlegging and it probably always would continue.

Rev. Oggel said that the brewers would be smart if they had introduced this bill themselves. He pointed to the number of regulations placed around liquor in recognizing it as "social dynamite."

Favors Education.

Miles remarked no licenses were issued outside of the policed areas in Lincoln and that he did not believe in prohibition until education and public sentiment were sufficient to guarantee enforcement.

Senator Charles Tvrdik, Omaha, presented a petition from some of his constituents who opposed the bill. Action was deferred.

Reported out to general file by the committee was Senator H. P. Heiliger's LB 303, which provides that an elector who appears before the county clerk in person to obtain his ballot to vote, must do so at least two clear days before the election.

Indefinitely postponed was LB 237, which provides that a duplicate statement under oath be attached to all bonds of $1,000 or more by surety when the latter is an individual and the security is real property.

Asimus Says Patrol 'Nuisance'

...Contends System Not Needed for Duration

Lack of a quorum prevented the legislature's public works committee from taking action Friday, but sparks flew in several directions over a pair of bills at the public hearing.

Senator Tony Asimus, O'Neill, appeared in behalf of his LB 347, which would suspend operations of the Nebraska safety patrol until March 1, 1945.

"The only thing the patrol is doing now is burning gasoline, wasting rubber, chasing after trucks and making a general nuisance of themselves," Asimus charged.

"I don't believe the public ever wanted the patrol, anyway. I know for sure we could get along without the patrol for the duration."

Cites Two Faults.

Asked by Senator George Craven if the general system or the management of the patrol was at fault, Asimus answered, "both."

Senator Martin Mischke, Crofton, chairman of the committee, and C. H. Bressler, Falls City, opposed the bills.

Said Mischke:

"I'm convinced the patrol is doing a good job."

The Omaha housing authority aired its "family squabble" before the committee in a continued hearing. LB 128 would curb the salary paid the manager of the Omaha projects. A salary of $5,200 now is paid and the proposal is that a $3,600 top be effected.

Four Oppose Curb.

Sam Howell, a member of the authority, appeared in favor of such a curb, while the other four members expressed views no limit should be placed.

Also heard was LB 387, which would raise from 25 to 40 per cent the mileage farm-to-market roads could exceed the mileage of public highways in any one county.

Paul Williams, York, supported the bill which was introduced by Senator Stanley Matzke, Seward. There was no opposition.

USS Oregon On Final Voyage To Scrap Pile

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 27—(INS)—The USS Oregon, historic "bulldog of the navy," upped anchor today and sailed to war—via the scrap pile.

Voyage of the Oregon was short, a 40-mile cruise down the Columbia river to Kalama, Wash., where the cutting torches of metal workers will reduce the old battlewagon to 10,000 tons of high-grade scrap steel for new ships of war.

Two puffing stern wheel river steamers pulled the Oregon from moorings in the port of Portland, where she had been the center of a war museum and quarters for patriotic organizations. They guided the ancient warrior through a lane of bridges which lifted ponderous draws in salute to let the proud ship pass.

COMMITTEE HEARINGS

County Funds Bill Debated

...Measure Limits Public Investment

A bill to avoid the situation in which former County Treasurer Otto J. Bauman found himself when, in order to save money for the county, he invested idle county funds in warrants of other funds, was considered Friday by the committee on government.

The measure, LB 244, was introduced by Gutoski, Tvrdik and Norman of Douglas. Speaking for it were Walter Pierpoint, president of the Association of Omaha Taxpayers and County Treasurer E. A. Adams of Douglas.

The measure empowers the county board of Douglas county to borrow money on promissory notes to pay warrants on any county fund entitled to such revenue. The bill limits borrowings so these shall not be in excess of amount required; may not be used for any other purpose; must not run more than one year; are callable at any time; with interest of not more than 3 per cent per annum; the same to be registered. The provision is a money saving device.

Also the bill permits the treasurer to use any money available in a fund not immediately needed to take up valid warrants drawn on other funds, but the committee insisted that such action shall not permit interest to be charged, thus preventing third parties for profiting.

This latter action was taken after State Auditor Johnson insisted that the situation in which former County Treasurer Bauman found himself due to interest being charged, shall not be duplicated.

Unless this change is made the same situation as before will be opened up, Johnson said, and no one opposed.

Committee On Government Advances Bill On Elections

The unicameral committee on government Friday voted to report out a substitute bill for LB 9, which will make corrections in the election law covering filling vacancies on the boards, minor details regarding ballots and the like.

"It is merely corrective," Chairman Peterson said. "When we started considering the measue, we found an entirely new bill was advisable. It will be a committee bill, entitled to a new number.

LB. 409, by Mekota, was ordered reported for general file. It provides that a civil officer, except a memer of the legislature, on joining the armed service shall not be required to maintain his bond or be responsible for the acts or deflacations of the acting officer appointed to take his place.

Plan Comprehensive Study Grasshopper, Chinch Bug Control

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Taking the position that the saving of food crops is just as much a war job as the production of food, the agriculture department is planning a comprehensive program of grasshopper and chinch bug control in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska during the forthcoming growing season.

Officials say that surveys show outbreaks of both insect pests might be such as to cause widespread destruction of crops.

Because of the shortage of farm manpower, the department says it plans to provide labor, equipment and materials in certain areas in addition to its established program of purchasing and delivering bait and supervising the voluntary control work.

For Needy Areas

Dr. P. N. Annand, chief of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, explained to the house appropriations sub-committee that the contemplated paid progrom would be carried out in areas where essential crops are threatened by infestations occurring on adjacent range or idle lands and where the problem is too extensive to be handled on a volunteer basis.

In the past, co-operating farmers, counties and states have provided approximately 60 per cent of the cost of volunteer baiting and it is expected that they will do likewise this year, he said.

Work Requires Supervision

As to chinch bugs, Dr. Annand declared that farmers can prevent the insects from migrating into and destroying essential food crops, particularly corn and sorghums, by constructing barriers with materials made available from federal and state sources.

The program calls for distribution of creosote or its equivalent and for supervision of the work.

Bolivia's flag consists of three horizontal bars of equal [illegible] of red, yellow and green.

"Cresswell's men rolled the Japs toward us . . ."

"In a few seconds they were squashed down."

"Our tanks pivoted and turned, spitting yellow flame, flushing men from under their treads."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, Cont.—While the Marines were closing a pincers on the Jap invasion force along the Tenaru, I worked my way forward, crawling between volleys, flopping to earth when a shell or grenade burst. I looked across the river into the shadowy cocoanut grove where only 150 yards from us the advance elements of the Japs were located. But no Japs were visible—a perfectly normal condition in this jungle warfare.

The volleys of machine gun and rifle fire from the depths of the grove grew louder. Col. Cresswell's people were rolling the Japs toward us. Suddenly I saw the dark figures of men running on the strip of beach that bordered the grove. In a few seconds the black, violently-moving blobs were squashed down on the sand and we heard a fusillade of rifle fire. The Japs did not get up again. It was the first visible evidence that Cresswell's men were completing their maneuver of encirclement.

One of our mortars went into action, and just after its first shot roared out the figure of a Jap popped up from behind a spit of sand. He was less than 150 feet from me. I saw him take about three fast steps, and then the mortar shell landed almost directly on top of his helmet. The explosion of the shell was a canopy of dirty gray smoke and debris shedding over the Jap from above, and then swallowing him altogether.

A rumbling of powerful motors came from behind us. We turned to find a group of four tanks moving down the trail through the cocoanut palms, heading for the Tenaru and the spit of sand across its mouth. We watched these awful machines as they plunged across the spit and into the edge of the grove, pivoting, turning, spitting sheets of yellow flame. It was like a comedy of toys, something unbelievable, to see them knocking over palm trees which fell slowly, flushing the running figures of men from under their treads. Group after group were flushed out and shot.

I saw a bright orange flash amidst a cloud of black smoke bursting directly under the treads of one tank; saw it stop suddenly, crippled. The other tanks moved in protectively towards it, took off the crew, and continued to roar and rattle through the grove. Everywhere they turned in their swivelling course, their cannon jettisoned sheets of orange flame. It seemed improbable that any life could exist under their deadly assault.

Each of 3,434 Indians Receives 52-Cent U.S. Check For 149th Year

GREEN BAY, Wis., Feb. 27—(INS)—For the 149th consecutive year Uncle Sam today issued checks for 52 cents each to 3,434 members of the Oneida tribe of Indians living in this region.

The money was paid in keeping with a treaty made with the tribe on Nov. 11, 1794, when George Washington was serving his second term as president of the United States.

The Oneidas stem from a branch of six nations of the Iroquois most of whose descendants live in western New York. The New York warriors each received several yards of calico under terms of the same treaty.

Manager Peru Farver of the Green Bay Indian agency personally delivered the government checks.

Attempts are being made to revive the limestone industry on the island of Lismore, Argyllshire, Scotland.

Firemen Defend Pension Rights At Hearing

Peterson Wants New System Worked Out; Lincoln Mayor Against Pension Elimination Now

Senator C. Petrus Peterson's LB 327, which would eliminate pensions for firemen in Lincoln, for all men not now retired, until the municipality under the home rule charter makes such provision, brought firemen and their representatives in force to the hearing Friday before the unicameral committee on government.

The hearing was climaxed by an address by Mayor Johnson, who objected to destroying the present system until some other adequate system is established.

Senator Peterson said he was willing to help work out something, but he insisted Lincoln is not a "cruel city." It is entirely willing to set up a new "retirement system," based on economic justice.

System Said "Wrong."

"The present system itself is wrong, "he said, "for it permits men to continue on the payroll, able to obtain good paying positions elsewhere, without service.

"A fireman after 21 years' service now can retire at 50 per cent of his pay at the age of 42, in good health and obtain another job at good pay and if he dies, his widow will receive the same allowance for life and on her death, the youngest child of that marriage will receive this provision until the age of 18."

"And the pension system," the senator added, "operates without moneary contribution toward it by the recipient."

Bring Out History.

Arguments for and against the bill before the committee brought out legal history of the Lincoln pension system, which operates under provisions of a law passed in 1895. After the legislature in 1923 gave the city a chance to establish a system under the home rule charter, Lincoln did nothing.

The Supreme court, passing upon the constitutionality of this 1923 law, ruled that firemen then in service in Lincoln were not affected by the act, leaving them under the law of 1895.

Firemen on the city payroll, therefore, up to 1923, are entitled to full pension rights under the law of 1895, but should the Peterson bill pass now, all men hired subsequently to 1923, no matter how near they are to the pension service limit of 21 years, will lose pension rights.

"More Hazardous Jobs."

Six firemen have served 20 years. Others have served for from 16 to 19 years. Twelve are on leave of absence serving in the army and navy, and would lose their pension rights.

The mayor's suggestion would provide that any different pension plan should affect only new men coming into esrvice.

"There never will be a sound relationship between the taxpayers and these city servants until the questions I have raised are settled," Senator Peterson asserted.

The fireman's job is rated extremely dangerous, he continued, but, citing insurance tables for city workers, he told the committee firemen's service is ranked tenth in point of danger, workers on sewer construction coming first, then electric light and power employes, those in the street repair department, those handling municipal coal, street cleaners, gas works employes, policemen, park maintenance, waterworks employes then firemen.

Retire Young.

The present firemen's pension plan costs the city $40,672.44 a year, the senator said. Nobody wants to destroy accrued rights of the 102 men in the department but the cost will soon be $110,000 annually.

Any fireman employed after 1923 accepted the duty with knowledge that the pension system was at issue.

Max Kier city attorney, said the Supreme court referred to men worthy of a pension as "superannuated and disabled firemen" whereas more than half retired before the age of 55, and many around 42 years of age, of whom some are earning between $300 and $400 a month. At the present time, firemen claim, if disabled, full pay for a year and workmen's compensation afterwards at the rate of $60 to $70 a month.

"Voters Might Approve."

J. G. W. Lewis, research director for the committee of 1,000 stated that of 57 firemen retired, 27 were in their 40's and 50's and 30 were engaged in other important jobs, mostly at the Lincoln air base.

Questioned by Senator Sorrell, Mr. Lewis said the committee of 1,000, with a membership of about 500, exacted a membership fee of $1.. He said it was composed of "civic minded" people.

In referendum votes its members were strongly opposed to pensions fixed by the legislature or the city council without ratification by the people. He said Lincoln had voted twice on retirement plans and the voters defeated them each time, but he said that the small negative majority of 382 the last time indicated the people might agree, with proper information, on a general retirement system for all city employes.

Fears For Small Units.

L. E. Aylsworth reiterated testimoney of a number of firemen retiring in the prime of life and accepting other employment.

"The first man, who retired in 1912, is still living after having drawn $18,000 pension money" Aylsworth said.

C. C. Early, who said the people felt they should determine the pension matter themselves, got into an interesting colloquy with Senator Sorrell, who was manifestey worried over what the bill would do to fire departments in smaller cities like Nebraska City.

The senator made a remark about the attitude of the Supreme court.

"Principal Insurance."

Early raised the only laugh of the hearing when he said, "They're trying to get pensions for themselves."

Bernard Gradwohl, attorney for the firemen and consultant in all their recent litigation and activities, said that if this bill passes, the future might see smaller departments scattered over Nebraska affected as soon as more home rule charters go into effect.

He mentioned the hazards of the fireman's occupation. Pensions are his principal insurance, he asserted.

Mr. Gradwohl stressed that the Supreme court in its decision on the 1923 law laid down the ruling that fire fighting is of state concern. In Lincoln, perhaps more than in any other city in the state, the fireman is charged with protecting state property. People move about from city to city and their lives are often in jeopardy. The whole state is interested. LB 327, he asserted, proposes that the state shall abdicate the power to reward firemen in accord with the importance of their occupation.

"Holds Them In Service."

Fire Chief Feaster, in service in Lincoln 27 years, said the highest salary in the department was 37 cents an hour. Lincoln firemen are good men, capable of earning more money outside, but held in service by pension rights, he said.

Henry Badberg spoke as a taxpayer for pensions. A letter from former Mayor Copeland was introduced praising the fire department.

Mayor Johnson then spoke, mentioning that charter amendments for pensioning all city employes had been defeated. "If this bill passes," he said, "all employes not eligible now for pensions will be cut off. Men 20 years in service who have remained under the belief they will be rewarded by a pension will be no longer eligible."

Then the mayor suggested further consideration.

Senator Peterson closed by stating he had been city attorney for 14 years. He gave his considered opinion that the "system itself is wrong."

"Still," he said, "I will sit down with Mr. Gradwohl and try to work out a plan that will provide a contributive system of retirement for the men when the time comes they are not able to work."

Jap Supply Ship Hit By Allied Bombs

...Raiders Range Wide

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Feb. 27—(AP)—Allied airmen scored a direct hit and two near misses with 500-pound bombs on a Japanese merchant vessel in the harbor of Wewak, in northern New Guinea, in wide ranging attacks on enemy shipping, air fields and supply lines on that island and nearby New Britain, an allied headquarters communique said today.

The communique said "heavy damage" was inflicted on the supply ship while other allied planes scored "damaging near misses" on three smaller Japanese vessels of 1,000 tons or less at Powell Point, New Britain.

Heavy bombers ranged over enemy targets from Gasmata, New Britain, where two waves of planes caused wide damage to the runway and dispersal areas, to Lae on the eastern New Guinea coast where the airdrome was bombed and machine-gunned.

Allied planes over the Lae and nearby Mubo areas struck at Japanese supplies.

Two Receive Minor Hurt As Cars Crash

Two persons sustained minor injuries in an automobile collison at Twelfth and B streets Friday evening. L. E. McCluskey, of 3737 Sumner, driving east on B street received minor bruises and lacerations. Janet Johnson, 1419 B, who was riding with Charles Johnson, 16, of 610 South Twenty-fifth, received chest bruises.

Police said the McCluskey car turned over one and a half times after colliding with the Johnson auto which was going north on Twelfth street. Both persons were released from St. Elizabeth hospital following treatment.

County May Obtain A Sheep Shearing School

Lancaster county has an opportunity to obtain a two-day sheep shearing school, provided that 10 or more persons are interested in getting the training, said County Extension Agent J. E. Purbaugh, today. Thus far, almost a score of the schools have been arranged for in counties throughout the state.

The training in shearing should mean that much more wool will be available to the armed forces, Purbaugh said, since shearers are scarce in Nebraska this year, and a person who has gotten the training should have no difficulty in lining up a schedule for work in his home county.

The series of shearing schools is part of the rural war production program for which funds have been appropriated by congress, and is being arranged through the cooperation of the Nebraska state department of vocational education, vocational agriculture teachers, the Nebraska argicultural extension service, and county extension agents. E. S. Bartlett of Chicago is to be instructor for three-day schools at the college of agriculture, on March 8, 9, and 10, and at Gibbon, on March 11, 12, and 13. Paul McDill, former vocational agriculture teacher and now a Dawes county rancher, will be instructor for two-day schools in other counties.

Twelve hours' instruction is required in the course, Hours may be 10 to 4 p. m. for two days, or there may be an evening session, which will allow one day for shearing practice. A minimum of 10 out-of-schools persons is required, and they must be 17 years or older. Equipment is supplied, and there is no charge for the instruction.

All persons who would like to attend such a school in Lancaster county should see J. E. Purbaugh, extension agent, 309 post office bldg., Lincoln.

SAY CONSERVATION BILL IS IMPROVED

...By Amendments

M'COOK, Neb., Feb. 27—(AP)—Statements that a bill to create a state water conservation board has been "whittled to death" by amendments in the legislature were challenged today by the Republican valley conservation association. The amendments "have not in any instance wrecked the bill or taken from it any of its important features" and have in fact improved the measure, LB 130, H. D. Strunk said in a statement made in behalf of the association, of which he is president.

Proponents of the bill charged on the senate floor last Saturday the measure was being "whittled to death," and was being "cut to pieces and killed by inches."

"There has not been a single amendment made to LB 130 which tends in any way to detract from the importance of this proposed legislation or the effective work of such a commission," Strunk said.

"In my opinion," he asserted, "this is one of the most important pieces of legislation ever considered by the Nebraska legislature. It seems to our people that it is not a question as to whether or not another bureau or commission should be initiated, but rather a question as to the future development and welfare of the state of Nebraska."

When A "Fox" Seeks "A Hole" In Tunisia

IT WAS black and heavy skies in Tunisia as a new week dawned; but filled with sunshine as it drew to a close—filled with sunshine both figuratively and literally. It was the Tunisian winter rain that Rommel used to cloak his surprise attack. Allied commanders apparently did not anticipate the nazi general would undertake an offensive in the mud—mud that interfered greatly with the skillful use of heavy mechanized equipment.

Element Of Surprise

BUT surprise invariably has been the chief strength of Rommel as commander, and it has been his undoing as well as his success. From the start of his surprise thrust which carried him west and north a maximum of 70 miles, and at one time placed him in a position to temporarily offer a terribly dangerous threat to all of the American and British communications in Tunisia it could not have altered the ultimate final result. All that it could have done was to have added to the difficulties of a triumphant conclusion of the African campaign by the united nations.

The Nazi Field Manual

ON THE last day of the week Rommel was back on the beam—that is, he was fighting in accordance with German tradition. It involves but one technique. The German military manual does not recognize defensive movements as a part of warfare. From the time that the elder Von Kluck established a pattern for the German army, it has followed the cardinal principle that the best defense is an offense. It has believed that the way to defend itself is to hit the other fellow on the nose. So on Saturday again Rommel was making desperate, futile efforts to retrieve his lost initiative in northern Tunisia. Time and again he sent task forces of tank and infantry into attack against the new positions which the allies had regained, but on each occasion his men were sent reeling back with heavy losses in casualties, prisoners, and equipment. That is so prophetic of the role which the axis armies in Tunisia are destined to play.

The "Fortunes of War"

IT DOES not mean, short of a miracle, that Hitler's last foothold on the soil of Africa can be won by the united nations without reverses, possibly; without "bad moments"; and without a heavy price in men, and equipment. That phrase "fortunes of war" for most of us merely has been intriguing but nevertheless meaningless words. What it really signifies is the ebb and flow of battle—the advances and the retreats—the inevitable slow attrition that takes place as armies see-saw and tug to ultimately best one another.

Aces In the Hole

BUT in north Africa through a surprising chain of circumstances the united nations hold all of the aces in the deck except one. The only ace which Hitler has against the united nations is the rugged terrain of Tunisia itself. Nature carved it out of its grand scheme of an African continent for defensive purposes. Its mountains, running down to the sea; its impassable salt marshes, made to order to stop advance in modern mechanized warfare where heavy tanks and other heavy vehicles experience the greatest difficulty; and its chain of towering peaks stretching east and west for a natural line against assault fit into the scheme of defense. There are few passes in those mountains—three to be exact—and at some points along the gaps they are extremely narrow. Only the airplane with its loads of blasting bombs offset the natural advantages of that kind of terrain. To attempt to force it by weight of numbers, of infantry, or even light tanks, which are about all that can be utilized in some of those passes, is costly unless the airplanes overhead can blast all opposition out of the path.

Only One Mission

THE German command in north Africa has but one mission. It is to hang on, hang on for dear life, as long as possible. Every day and every week it succeeds in keeping American and British forces occupied there, it postpones the plan of invasion of continental Europe on the soft, underbelly most vulnerable to attack. Each week it postpones the decision in Africa, it gives that much more time to Hitler's engineers and his labor legions to prepare for the impending allied attack.

A Death Sentence

CARRIED out to extreme the axis task mission in Africa could be a death sentence—one of those rare incidents in war where a hopeless cause is waged until the last man dies. Naturally, there is no authentic information upon the actual strength of the axis forces in Tunisia. Not even the prisoners taken can supply that because that information is possessed only by those at the top command. The German and Italian men in the ranks, the subordinate officers, do not know from one day to another the adequacy or the lack of reinforcements and supplies. They know the condition within their own company or their battalion but that is all.

More Than a Lucky Choice

STALIN opened the week with grim words. He and his men were fighting alone—fighting magnificently even the most begrudging spectator on the sidelines, reluctant to admit anything good could come from the communistic government of Russia—must admit. But they were not fighting alone. The first time Stalin misplayed his cards was on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the reorganization of the red armies—or better the creation of the red armies. Except for that African diversion, which caught Hitler and all his general staff flat-footed—and forced him and it to transfer large forces to the west, particularly of airplanes—it might easily be that the fate of Russia might have been settled.

It's Unfair Play

HITLER thought he could repeat, with improvement, the winter of 1941. He felt certain he could withdraw the bulk of his forces for rest, reorganization and re-equipment until again late in the spring he could give the signal to start east again—this time from infinitely superior springboards insuring him of the attainment of his objective to bring European Russia under his complete sway. But again the African campaign disrupted his plans—gave Stalin the chance of a lifetime—and increased Hitler's difficulty infinitely.

His Voice Returned

WHAT was reputed to be a statement by Hitler to his people constituted one of the week's significant developments. The world of the united nations had been speculating whether Hitler was dead or alive but dead or alive the proclamation which bore his name carried its own sinister notes. It suggested a period of deeper horror and suffering from which no nation and no people will escape. It contained the language of a desperate man, who knows that he must atone and from the corner to which he has been driven, hurls his defiance.

UNDER the military necessities naturally there was nothing touching upon the possible daring gambles Hitler may take. All that he did indicate was that if he has to go down, it will be only when he has succeeded in pulling as many down with him as possible. That was evident from the start. He and his associate gangsters have lived dangerously ever since coming into power, and in their struggle to rise to power. Anyone who lives dangerously plays the game dangerously. Hitler has shown his contempt for German life in his rise to power and in his sacrifice of German youth upon the battlefield. Virtually the only punch he has pulled up until now has been to foreswear the use of poison gas, and it was not a spirit of generosity and humanity which caused him to do that. It was that poison gas is a game two can play, and at which both lose.

Spring and Summer

JUST ahead is spring and summer—only a comparatively few, fast-racing weeks ahead. Shortly the world will be plunged into the full fury of the most intensive season of fighting. It is in the spring and summer and early fall that the greatest military activity is possible—furious as the fighting has been throughout the winter. It is then that mechanized equipment on the ground can be used to greatest advantage. The next six months will be the most important in global conflict. The accumulating evidence is that the united nations will not wait long in turning loose their armies for the decisive battles of Europe.

DIET AND HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "The Human Body"

FIRST ACCURATE ANATOMY PRINTED 400 YEARS AGO

Four hundred years ago, in 1543, there issued from the printing press of Oporinus in Basel, Switzerland, a large folio book which was called in Latin, "De Humani Corporis Fabrica" (On the Fabric of the Human Body). This book was the first important and accurate anatomy ever to be compiled. With its publication, modern medicine began.

The author of the book was Andreas Vesalius. He had been born in Belgium and had studied in the medical department of the University of Paris and the University of Louvain. In Paris he studied under the famous Dr. Sylvius, who taught anatomy by reading out of Galen. But young Vesalius, being of an inquiring turn of mind, proved to the professor and the students, by dissecting a dog in their presence, that what Galen said was not true.

He early acquired his great obsession in life—to find out what the real anatomy of the human body was. But he was beset with difficulties because he could not obtain material, for there were strong prejudices in those days against the dissection of the human body.

Study of Human Skeleton

One night, it is said, Vesalius crept out to the environs of Paris and cut down the skeleton of a robber who had been left hanging on the gibbet. The scavenger birds had picked his bones clean and Vesalius had, for once, a human skeleton to study. Until the University of Louvain was destroyed in 1914 by the Huns, a part of what was probably this skeleton was still on view in their anatomical museum.

Vesalius, after his student days, moved to Louvain but his dissection activities got him into hot water and he moved to the great, liberal University of Padua in Italy. Here he obtained human material for dissection and held dissections in public and was made professor of anatomy, a chair which was created for him and was the first in the history of the world. When Vesalius had assembled all his material and had had the plates drawn, he published in 1543 this magnificent book. He was only 29 years old at the time of its publication.

Study of Anatomy

It is impossible to overestimate the importance of this contribution. Before its publication, medicine everywhere was largely a set of superstitutions, theories and systems. Even the mose learned physicians had only the vaguest idea of the anatomy of the human body.

About a century after its publication, William Harvey founded the science of physiology. A little more than a century after its publication the microscope was brought into use and the study of the minute structure of the body was begun. Then there followed researches in chemistry, pathology (the science of the body in disease), numerous observations with the thermometer, the counting of the pulse and other exact methods of measurement which tended to make medical observation exact. Then only yesterday—practically in our grandfathers' day — came the introduction of anesthesia and asepsis in surgery and the knowledge of germs and, within our own day, the x-ray to complete the picture of scientific medicine.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. B.:—Can a diabetic be sure of the amount of sugar in the system by using only the urine test (urine and Benedict solution, boiled) without a blood sugar test?

Answer: Yes. For all practical purposes in the routine treatment of diabetes, the urine test is the most reliable indication of the patient's condition. The blood sugar test is used only under circumstances when a physician is in doubt as to the true condition, or during an emergency.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Reddy Fox Investigates

Always to little things give heed,
A tree springs from a tiny seed.
—Reddy Fox.

There was a hard crust over the snow. Reddy Fox could walk or run on it without breaking through, and, of course, without leaving a footprint. Just now he was walking. There was no cause for hurrying. More might be lost than gained by hurrying. He was looking for a breakfast. He had need of it, great need of it. Like almost every one else in the Green Forest and on the Green Meadows he had been forced to stay at home and go hungry while the storm lasted. Only the Mouse folk in their tunnels under the snow, and their neighbors, the Shrews, had not been stormbound.

The Green Forest wasn't green now. It was shining crystal. Every tree and bush to the tiniest twig was coated with ice. It was a beautiful sight, but Reddy wasn't thinking about beauty. He was thinking solely about getting something to eat. This is why he was walking. He couldn't afford to miss an opportunity to get something to eat if it were no more than a bite. Even the smallest Mouse, Teeny Weeny Weeny the Shrew, who is smaller than the smallest Mouse, or one of the smallest of the feathered folk would be very, very welcome. So he walked slowly, stopping often the better to look all round and listen.

Ahead of him was a tall, dead stub. It glistened in the morning light all but the top of it. Reddy noticed this. It is by noticing things that are different that Reddy has managed to more than hold his own in the Great World. Why wasn't the top of that stub covered with ice like the rest of it? Suddenly Reddy knew. He chuckled, a silent chuckle inside.

"It is Hooty the Horned Owl sitting straight and still so as to look like part of the tree," throught Reddy.

Just then Mrs. Hooty lighted on a broken limb near the top of that stub. Reddy sat down behind a big tree around the trunk of which he could peep and watch those big Owls. He wasn't at all pleased. No sir, Reddy wasn't at all pleased to see Hooty and Mrs. Hooty.

"If those two are going to hunt around here the sooner I hunt somewhere else the better," he muttered.

However, he didn't leave at once. Perhaps those feathered hunters would fly away to hunt somewhere else. He would wait a while and see. Presently Hooty leaned forward with his head turned a bit to one side. Mrs. Hooty did the same thing.

Reddy wasn't at all pleased to see Hooty and Mrs. Hooty

"They are listening; they hear something," thought Reddy. "There are no better ears in the Green Forest than those two have."

He cocked his own sharp, black ears and listened. He heard nothing but the tinkle of a bit of ice falling from a tree. It wasn't anything of that kind to which those Owls were listening. He was sure of that.

"Perhaps," thought he, "they have heard a Mouse squeak near them, but too far from me for me to hear."

Suddenly Hooty spread his great wings and sailed down on the crusted snow. Mrs. Hooty followed. They leaned over, staring down at the crust and listening. Hooty straightened up and glared fiercely all around to make sure that no one was watching. He turned his head until he was looking straight behind him, then snapped it around the other way until he was once more looking behind him. It was done so quickly that his head seemed to turn all the way around. Then he once more looked down by his feet. He seemed to be trying to scratch that icy crust with his great claws. Mrs. Hooty hopped over beside him and did the same thing. That crust was so hard their claws simply slipped off. They were excited. They hopped about. They flew up on that tall stub, and down again. They scolded and chattered and snapped their bills. After a long time they gave up and flew away.

Reddy trotted over to where they had been. He sat down and studied his surroundings. Suddenly he heard a faint, tap, tap, tap. It came from almost under his feet. He trembled with excitement. "A Grouse!" he exclaimed under his breath.

ON WAR MARRIAGES.

Should young people marry with war going on
When soon to the front must the husband be gone?
I am sure I don't know.
There are those who insist it were wiser to wait,
While others will argue for letting them mate;
There it is, con and pro.

Some folks answer: "Yes. Let them wed if they choose.
They will anyhow, even though we refuse,
So let's not interfere!"
While others to gloomy predictions inclined
Say that war leaves too many young widows behind
With orphans to rear.

Well, peace time or war time there's no one can guess
What of good luck or bad will the future possess
And so I suggest
If, in love with each other, they're anxious to wed,
Just give them your blessing and say "go ahead!"
And then hope for the best.

Radio Given To USO By I.O.O.F, Lodge at Anniversary Rite

Added to the entertainment equipment of the U. S. O. Saturday was an armchair radio, the gift of Capital lodge No. 11, I. O. O. F., which Friday night at Odd Fellows hall celebrated the 75th anniversary of its founding. Announcement that the radio was to go to the U. S. O. followed the taking of the initiatory degree by Edward Anderson, a soldier at the air base, and four other candidates.

Nearly 200 attended the Founders' day affair, including grand lodge officials. Dice White, noble grand, presided. Among the grand lodge officers, and all of whom spoke, were John A. Dixon, Blair, grand master; Will A. Sapp, York, grand secretary; W. C. Noll, York, deputy grand master; A. E. Hanna, Blair, and F. T. Wickham, Beatrice, past grand patriarchs; J. W. McKissick, Beatrice, and H. P. Rankin, Lincoln, past grand masters.

Grand Secretary Sapp took moving pictures of the initiation, and of the radio, which was on display during the evening. The four who received the degree besides Anderson were George Taft, Clifford Murphy, Harry Roper and Edward West.

Ghandi, Chiang And Stalin 3 Question Marks, Says Davison

"The three big question marks of today are the leaders of Russia, China and India," said Frank Drake Davison, lecturer, in an address before the Lincoln Dinner club Friday evening at the Cornhusker.

Mr. Davison had as his subject, "Ten Men Who May Reorganize the Post-War World," and gave a character study of leaders of the allied nations and their particular problems. He analyzed the characters of Stalin, Gandhi, Nehru, Chiang Kai-Shek, and gave an intimate portrait of Winston Churchill, with sidelights on his two colleagues, Anthony Eden and Ernest Bevin.

The speaker showed the profundity of the problems facing these men, and said that India in particular presents the biggest political problem in the world today.

New directors elected in the short business session following the dinner are: Jean L. Kinder, Rev. Bert L. Story and William M. Stoner. Holdover directors are: W. A. Robbins, Archie Furr, Judge Robin R. Reid, Byron Dunn and Max Meyer.

The directors will meet at an early date to elect officers.

Three Iowa Men Are Accused of Stealing 200 Cases of Whisky

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Feb. 27—(INS)—Three northwest Iowa men today were held under $1,000 bond for investigation by the federal grand jury in May, after being accused of stealing 200 cases of whisky from a truck that went into a ditch near Hartley, Ia., on Jan. 20.

Gerald Epping, 31, of Sanborn, and Harry Hebbel, 42, and Harold Riedmann, 32, both of Hartley, were charged with the theft of an interstate commerce shipment and possession of an interstate commerce shipment, knowing it to be stolen.

The truck was being driven by Dwight Dewey from Lawrenceburg, Ind., to Sioux Falls, S. D., and Aberdeen, S. D. It was carrying 475 cases of whisky. While Dewey went for help, about half the load was stolen.

SEN. RAECKE:

Terms Legislation Relating To School Funds Important

(By the Associated Press.)

You've heard of those "conscientious citizens" who run for public office because they would be doing a public service.

Now, pull up a chair and meet Walter Raecke, Central City lawyer who is serving his second term in Nebraska's legislature.

Not only does Senator Raecke tell you part of his reason for running for the position is because of his service to the public, but you can't help believing his story as the gospel itself.

Spends Time In Chamber.

He spends more time in his seat in the chamber than does any other senator. His general, sober attitude reflects a conscientious spirit to an unusual degree.

When the clerk of the legislatures reads a double mitful of enrollment and review committee amendments, which always are as dry as Nebraska soil during a drouth, Raecke sits complacently and follows every word.

"I think some of the important legislation here pertains to the school funds," he said recently in handing his secretary a headache of notes and letters to prepare.

"The difficulty is that we're trying to do something with a condition that has existed over a period of years."

His Tax Measure Killed.

Senator Raecke felt the hot breath of the axe several weeks ago when his measure to levy a two per cent serverance tax on oil, with the revenue to go to the school funds, was killed.

"I think it was a good plan," he said. "We're going to have to find a solution in something."

Raecke's temperature probably will get closest to the boiling point when LB 243, the proposal to divert waters of the North Platte river to the Republican river watershed is mentioned.

Showdown Sought On Farm Draft

...Supporters Push Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Undisturbed by opposition in the military affairs committee, Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) disclosed today he would seek a "showdown" in the senate next week on the bill to halt induction of farm workers into the armed forces, and predicted it would be promptly passed.

While another supporter of the measure, Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) expressed hope of a favorable committee vote Monday, Bankhead said he would seek action on the floor Thursday session regardless of the committee's decision.

"I'm not making any threat," Bankhead said in an interview, adding that time was vital to the measure's value. "We've got to produce the food necessary to win the war. We can't have essential farmers taken out of the production fight at planting time.

Confident of Passage.

"If the military affairs committee can't make up its mind by Wednesday, an effort will be made to call the bill up in the senate the next day."

Bankhead said he was confident of quick passage of the bill for which he said there were 40 signatures, and he hoped the committee would report it out Monday.

Johnson led the fight for the bill in the committee yesterday, urging its immediate approval. Opponents, however, carried by a 75 to 5 vote a motion to delay action until Monday to allow time for a report from army, navy and selective service officials. Johnson said he fought off efforts to postpone consideration indefinitely and obtained promise o a vote for and against the measure at 11 a. m. Monday.

Expressing belief that at least two of those who voted to delay action would support the bill, Johnson said he had agreed to amendments limiting the blanket deferment to 1943 and defining farm work so as to exclude owners of "victory gardens" from the provisions

Senator Gurney (R-SD) declared farmers would resent the bill as a reflection on their patriotism, and that it would handicap the military forces by denying them "the necessary men, at time when they need them, in sufficient numbers to do their job."

Combination Sales Of Farm Equipment Rapped by OPA Head

Various schemes by farmers to evade price ceiling provisions covering farm equipment sale or rental, by use of "combination selling" or options, are not going unnoticed by OPA, it was said Saturday. Steps are being taken to prevent such practice, the state office added.

It is made plain that the granting of "options" to purchase a desired piece of controlled machinery through overpayment for an uncontrolled item, or offering machinery in combination with uncontrolled items in order to obtain higher than ceiling prices is illegal.

These two methods have been generally used to evade ceiling prices. Some sales have been made in Nebraska at abnormally high prices by first offering an uncontrolled item with the announcement that purchaser will have an "option" on the controlled implement which will be offered later.

The combination sale ruse has been used in other cases. The example here could be the combined sale of an uncontrolled cultivator and a controlled tractor together for $1,067. Here the buyer would presumably be paying $640 ceiling for the tractor and $427 for the uncontrolled cultivator, although the actual value of the cultivator is much lower.

Both of these schemes are illegal, according to D. F. Felton, state director of the office of price administration.

One exception is made in the combination sale practice. This is when implements are specially designed for mounting on one of the controlled items, such as a plow built for a tractor. In this case the uncontrolled item may be sold in combination with the controlled item, but it must be sold on the controlled item formula, which means that a selling price must be determined for it according to an established formula before it can be sold in the combination.

ALEXANDRIA — Alexandria school and village caucuses were held this week and these candidates named: Village board, two year term, Robert Hart, Earl Pletcher, Merle Cory, James Hosack, Charles Davidson, and Frank Fritchie; school board, three year term, Mrs. Anna Deets, Frank Bowker, James Hoseck, and Mrs. Edna Whitlock; two year term to fill vacancy, John Glaum and Robert Sulz; one year term to fill vacancy, Mrs. Charles Beer and Mrs. Edson Cane.

Bonding Of Clerk Puzzles Solons As Legal View Sought

An opinion from the attorney general's office will be asked to settle a controversy which arose Friday when LB 177, which would appropriate $10,114 for the state treasurer and his deputy's bond, was discussed.

There was no actual issue on the bill, which was introduced by Senator Ray Thomas of Clay Center, but a question presented itself concerning the bond, fund and appropriations clerk's bonds.

Senator Walter Raecke, Central City, asked: "How far are we going to extend the bonding principle," as he moved to strike the section of the bill setting forth the payment of bond premium for the three clerks.

Senator C. Petrus Peterson, Lincoln, said that as long as the bond requirements for the clerks were not statutory, the result probably would be that the bond would not be given.

"As I see it," Peterson said, "what is to be accomplished, other than an expression as to whether or not we desire that they be bonded?"

The bond clerk's premium amounts to $46.25, while the premiums for the other two are $23.08.

The attorney general will be asked to rule as to the scope of coverage through the bonds of the treasurer and his deputy.

Youth Cavorts Naked To 'Toughen Up For Army'—Has Audience

SEATTLE, Feb. 27—(INS)—Police responding to dozens of phone calls concerning a "nudist with a gun," found 21-year-old Arthur Stebbing of Pullman, Wash., cavorting in the woods near Queen Anne Hill, exclusive apartment house district.

Stebbing, stark naked, was jumping over logs, chopping wood, climbing trees and taking shots at tin cans with a .22 rifle.

Police pushed through the crowd that had slipped up through the trees watching the preoccupied young man.

Stebbing paused and made a dash for his clothes, but the uninvited spectators were between him and modesty.

Questioned, Stebbing blurted: "Woodland nymph, nuts! I was toughening up to join the army. I didn't ask for any audience."

He was jailed on an open charge.

Test Pilots . . .

To take the supercarged Thunderbolt into the upper air, the pilots, too, must be "suped up." The pilot pedals a stationary bicycle, prior to takeoff, to reduce the amount of nitrogen in his blood. If this was not done, gas bubbles would collect in the blood stream at high altitudes and bring on aeroembolism, which is the aerial equavilent of diver's "bends." If the pilot remained idle during the inhaling of oxygen, the denitrogenation would take three hours. The exercise causes the blood to circulate faster.

Your Federal Income Tax

Deductions for Taxes.

Taxes are, in general, a deductible item in arriving at net income for Federal income tax purposes. In the case of taxes incurred in connection with a trade or profession, the amount is shown in Schedule H to arrive at net profit (or loss) from business or profession entered in item 9 of the return, Form 1040; taxes on rental property should be shown in Schedule B, while other taxes deductible should be shown in item 14 of Deductions. Taxes shown in item 14 must also be supported by an explanation (in Schedule C) of the deduction.

The deductibility of taxes is subject to four general limitations:

1. Taxes are generally deductible only by the person upon whom they are, by law, imposed;
2. Federal income, war profits and excess profits taxes are not deductible for Federal income tax purposes;
3. Taxes for local benefits, such as assessments for street, sidewalk, sewage, and other local improvements which tend to enhance the value of the property taxes, are not deductible except amounts allocable to maintenance or interest charges;
4. The tax must be a tax for public purposes. Charges for governmental services such as municipal water bills, parking meter charges, service fees, and the like are not deductible as taxes, but are deductible as expenses if incurred in trade or business.

In the case of state and local "sales taxes," if the amount of the tax is measured by the price of the article sold, or by a sum per unit of the article sold, and is separately stated, the amount paid is deductible by the purchaser.

The Federal tax on gasoline is levied upon the producer or importer, and consequently is not deductible by the individual consumer (except that in the case of gasoline used for business purposes it may be included in the cost of the gasoline as a business expense).

Federal duties and excise taxes are, in general, imposed upon the manufacturer, importer, or dealer, and consequently are not deductible by the consumer, or vendee. This applies to the Federal excise tax on automobiles, tires, lubricating oils, mechanical refrigerators, radios, and other commodities, as well as to the "luxury taxes" on perfumes, toilet praparations, jewelry, and the like. It also applies to the tax on electrical energy, liquor, tobacco, cigarets, playing cards and the like.

Taxes imposed by the United States Government on the following items may be deducted: Admissions, club dues, telephone and telegraph services, safe deposit boxes, transportation of persons and property, use of motor vehicle or boat, and documents.

Federal employment taxes required to be paid by an employer are deductible, but the amount of such taxes required to be withheld by the employer from the compensation of employes as payments are made is not allowable as a deduction by the employe for Federal income tax purposes.

In the case of ad valorem property taxes, the deduction is allowed only to the owner of the property. Thus, if a man and his wife are filing separate returns, and the home is owned by the wife, then the property taxes on that home are deductible only in the wife's return.

State income taxes paid are allowable tax deductions in the Federal income tax return.

London Demands Young Dance Bands

LONDON (AP) — "Too old at forty" is writ large over the entrance to most of Britian's dance bands. Youth is in demand, report dance circles, because people who listen and dance to the music are generally allergic to grey-haired orchestras. As a result, many young London dance band players, earning an average of $28 weekly before the war, are now getting up to $250 for a twenty-four-hour week.

"They are not all experienced players," said a Musicians' Union official, "but they are young and good-looking. Some have been invalided out of the forces, others are medically unfit to serve."

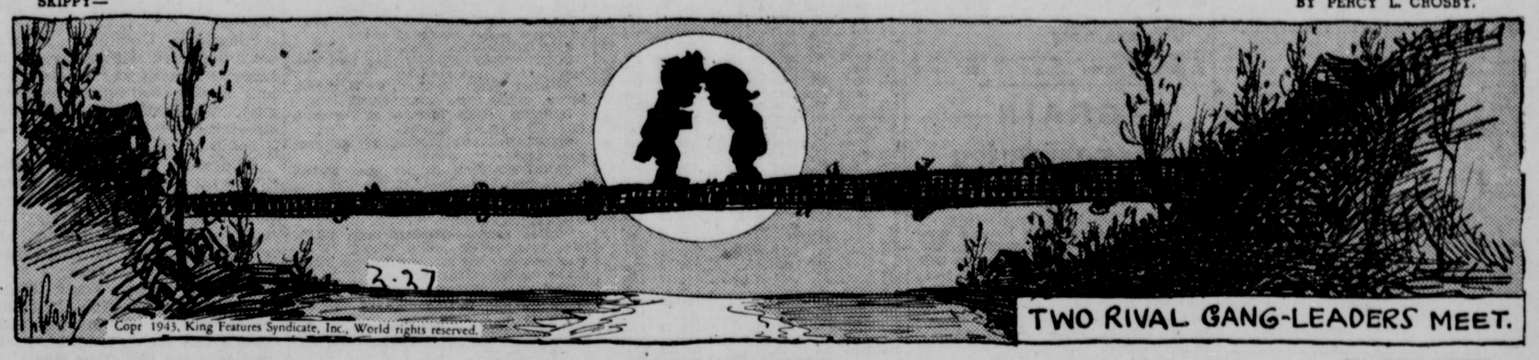

The movies had us fooled. The bravest hero may be a queer little guy who doesn't look a bit like Clark Gable.

We don't like these big-shot pow wows. It isn't smart for leaders to huddle so one bomb could change history.

The packers claimed illegal slaughtering was keeping livestock off the local market and threatening meat supplies for the army yand lend-lease agencies.

WHEAT FINISHES DOWN FRACTIONS

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—A material increase in hedging pressure was offset by good milling demand, accompanied by reports of excellent business in flour, in the wheat pit today and prices maintained a firm undertone.

At one time wheat was up almost a cent from yesterday's close, but the advance brought considerable liquidation on prospects of expanded redemptions of loan wheat. There was hedging from the northwest and quantities of cash wheat were said to have been purchased by southwestern interests.

At the close wheat was at the day's lows, off ¼-⅝, May, $1|46⅛@1.46⅛@1.46; July, $1.46⅝, corn was unchanged at ceilings, May $1.00, oats were ⅝c lower to ¼c higher and rye was unchanged to ¼c lower.

Quigley Believes Live Cattle Price Ceilings Defeated

OMAHA, Feb. 27—(AP)—Democratic National Committeeman James C. Quigley left today for Washington where he will represent the state at a conference of cattle industry men from Nebraska, Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Kansas and South Dakota. Quigley said the group plans to confer with Price Administrator Prentiss Brown and present a brief opposing price ceilings on live cattle. The brief contains a plan Quigley feels will be acceptable to the government and the ivestock industry generally.

"I have been working on the plan with representatives from the other states for the past month," Quigley declared. "Recently we have contacted OPA authorities and have received favorable comments suggesting that the battle against price ceilings has been won. The OPA has indicated that every other measure will be exhausted before ceiling prices are put on live animals."

Harry Coffee, president of the Omaha Union Stockyards company, who has protested against ceilings on livestock, received assurance yesterday from the OPA that such a course was being considered only as final resort.

—SECURITIES—

WEEKEND TRADE IS STEPPED UP

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—The stock market today stepped out of one of the best and liveliest weeks and months for more than a year with its feet on fairly solid ground despite further conversion of paper profits into cash.

Low-priced rails and motors accounted for much of the two-hour turnover, coming out in blocks of as much as 15,000 shares after a spotty opening without getting anywhere in particular. Prime industrials, however, were not neglected and advances running to a point were well distributed in the closing hour. Transfers for the full stretch were around 700,000 shares.

The war news still was on the side of bullish forces, as were persistent pressure of excess investent funds and inflation murmurings.

Bonds were steady. The buoyant commodities of Friday lost some of their swing.

Among stocks touching new tops for 1942-43 or longer were Pennsylvania, Southern Railway, Seaboard Air Linne, Graham-Paige, Hupp Motors, American Telephone, J. I. Case and Pepsi-Cola. Ahead most of the time were Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, Chrysler and Philip Morris in the faltering class were Radio Corp., reflecting a modest drop in 1942 net due to mounting taxes; Western Union, U. S. Rubber, Eastmann Kodak and General Electric.

There were 12 better than million-share session in February ,with the current week accounting for four. The Associated Press 60-stock average almost duplicated the 2.4-point advance of January and on the week was up more than a point.

Bombers Strike Hard At Munda Air Base

...Start 'Many Fires'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—American dive bombers started "many fires" in a heavy raid on the Japanese air base at Munda in the central Solomons, the navy announced today.

Communique No. 293:

"North Pacific:

"1. On Feb. 25th, U. S. bombers with fighter escort attacked Japanese positions at Kiska.

"South Pacific: (All dates are east longitude).

"2. On Feb. 26 Dauntless dive bombers (Douglas) with Wildcat (Grumman F4F) escort attacked Japanese positions at Munda. Many fires were started and at least one plane was destroyed on the ground."

The report that numerous blazes were observed after the dive bomber raid on Munda was unusual. Navy communiques on Munda attacks usually say either that results were not observed or else that only one or two fires were seen.

Medical, Veterinary And Dental Students May Continue Courses

OMAHA, Feb. 27—(AP)—Seventh service command headquarters called attention today to a new army order giving opportunity to medical, dental or veterinary college students to continue studies further than under previous regulations.

The order affects students now holding commissions in the medical administrative corps or in the officers' reserve corps and who are on an inactive status for the purpose of completing their training.

These students may have their commissions terminated upon their their own application and enlist as privates in the enlisted reserve corps. They will then be called to active duty at the end of the first full semester that begins in 1943 and will be detailed to continue studies with selected schools.

Students commissioned in the medical administrative corps also may resign commissions, enlist as privates and be detailed.

Pre-medical students in the enlisted reserve corps taking an approved course will continue in an inactive status until the end of the first full semester, or corresponding academic period, then will be called for active duty, officials explained.

Those selected for further medical or pre-medical training will be detailed for such training under the army specialized training program.

The state railway commission Saturday announced that a continuation of the Union Pacific hearing on the application for tri-weekly service from Spalding and Albion to Columbus has been set for March 23 at Columbus.

The commission also announced that the Union Pacific has dropped the applications to discontinue service at Ames and Weston.

'Lady Luck' Flew With Nebraskan

...Fortress Crewmen Narrowly Escape

By GLADWIN HILL.

UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 27—(AP)—Lady Luck was an unlisted passenger on the U. S. Eighth air force's second Fortress-Liberator assault on Wilhelmshaven yesterday. It was an expedition of close shaves.

The Fortress "Southern Comfort," which has missed nine of 16 raids because she was shot up so badly on the other seven, got back almost on schedule this time although a four-foot square was clipped right out of the main rudder by shrapnel.

Wider Than Atlantic

"That old North Sea looked wider than the Atlantic," Pilot Lieut. Hugh Ashcroft said. "I don't know how we made it. The fact we prayed might have had something to do with it. We were walking on a thin line for a while. I'm becoming a firm believer in the saying 'God bless Boeing'."

"Southern Comforts" wings were peppered with nasty, jagged holes and there was a hole a foot long in the cowling of No. 3 engine. When she came in oil was streaming off her like water off a damp spaniel.

A deadly 20 millimeter shell ripped into the nose compartment, clipped the navigator, Lieut. James Moberly of Moberly, Mo., right on his steel helmet and knocked his head down so hard his helmet split the desk.

The tail gunner, Frank Hilsabeck of McCook, Neb., had another shell rip into one side tail, pass a few inches from his back and tear out the other side.

Sergt. Stephen Krucher of Merrick, Long Island, tail gunner in another Fortress, the famous "Boomtown Junior," piloted by Capt. Clyde Walker of Tulsa, Okla., had a mean piece of flak (anti-aircraft shell fragment) cut through his pants leg and then ricochet off a light plastic cigaret case in his pocket.

Throw Out Everything

Krucher, 21, was on his first raid since spending a month in a hospital for wounds in the back received in the Lorient raid of Dec. 30 when "Boomtown" came back skimming the channel and the crew even threw out the toilet to lighten the ship.

The Fortress, "Bloody Tangier Show," received 25 flak holes in a burst right over the target and had the hydraulic system knocked out as well as part of the electrical system.

A piece of flak clanged right up through the tail.

"Where did that hit?" asked the pilot, Capt. Charles C. Clark, of McAllen, Tex., over the interphone.

Whirls Too Fast

"Well, it came awful close to my knee," came back tail-gunner Sergt. Lewis Clayton, ex-cowboy from Merced, Cal.

"But that's what I came here for," he added on his safe return. "The more Jerry sends up the more we'll knock down."

Meanwhile the "Tangier's" top-turret gunner, Sergt. Everett A. Howard of Chanute, Kas., was whirling around so fast keeping a bead on the enemy planes that the turret electrical system heated and burst into flames. He managed to get the fire out.

Omaha Bombardier Plays Lead Part In Wilhelmshaven Raid

"Then the bombardier, Lieut. Charles Malec, of Omaha, pushed a button, and it wasn't until he called to Co-pilot Capt. Clinton Breeding, that I realized our bombs had fallen." Thus does Gladwin Hill, Associated Press war correspondent, describe the climactic moment of the flight he made in a bomber with a large raiding party over Wilhelmshaven, Germany, Friday.

Several planes were lost in the expedition, but great damage was inflicted on the vital German base. "I saw about 10 out of a force of 25 nazi fighters that tried to close in on us," Hill states in his dispatch. "The rest concentrated on the rear of our formation, and the exclamations of the gunners over the interphone sounded like a radio account of a hockey game."

Hill admits that, being a civilian, a newspaperman, he had expected to be scared, accompanying the trained fighting men. But he said it was surprisingly prosaic, and that the men went about their tasks with businesslike efficiency.

However, he admits that it was an expedition of close shaves. They were under attack by German fighters and intense antiaircraft fire for about two hours before leaving the scene of the raid.

YOST ESTATE TAX AMOUNTS TO $12,755

A total tax of $12,755 was paid to Nebraska from the $651,284 estate of a former Lincoln business man, John H. Yost, who died Dec. 29, 1939, State Tax Commissioner Frank Brady announced Saturday.

Of the total estate, deductions amonuted to $114,702, with the Lancaster county inheritance tax $4,396.

Interest on the net estate tax of $11,066 reached $1,689, Brady pointed out.

Sgt. Samuel Keefer In Charge Of Army Recruiting Station

Sgt. Keefer

Sgt. Samuel Keefer, a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan university, is the new head of the local army recruiting office. He succeeded Sgt. J. P. Yocum, who received a transfer to duty at the Lincoln air base early this month.

Formerly employed in personnel work with the United States department of labor and bureau of statistics in Washington, Keefer has been in the army since 1940.

His wife and infant son are at present in Omaha, where he was formerly stationed. They plan to join him in Lincoln at a later date.

Ceilings On Meat Effective Tuesday

chain store prices, and independent store prices; the exact dollar and cent ceilings to be announced by the office of price administration.

To Standardize Cuts.

The next step, according to the OPA, will be to standardize the meat cuts so housewives will be certain that they are getting their full allotment, and in order to prevent black market cuts.

Ceilings already on meat are those established last year which state that the prices may not be raised above the March, 1942, maximum. This general ceiling has caused meat packers to sell to the highest areas throughout the country, and neglect many localities with low March maximums. There are dollar and cent ceilings on wholesale prices at the present time.

Regional Basis.

The program was arranged by the food industry committee of the OPA together with the department of agriculture. It will be handled on a regional basis.

This establishment of dollar and cent retail ceiling prices and the standardization of cuts, is the last step before rationing, according to OPA. Prentiss M. Brown, OPA chief, said Thursday that the meat rationing program was speeding to a conclusion.

According to the OPA the red stamps of ration book 2 will be used to purchase meat cuts, and the number of points each cut has been valued at will be posted in every grocery store throughout the country. This system is already in effect for canned foods.

Best official sources declare that 1¾ pounds of meat per person per week will be allotted at the outset of the meat rationing program. Officials originally hoped for two and one half pounds, but military and lend-lease demands have dashed these hopes.

appropriation some way and then tie it down if it isn't used."

As for the first committee to clear its books, Chairman E. M. Neubauer's agriculture group probably will attain the honor. To be completely through with its function, the committee has only five bills to consider in executive session besides hearing Senator Frank Sorrell's geological survey resolution.

Difficult Tasks.

Meanwhile, the majority of other committees face difficult tasks. Not only that, much time will be needed to accomplish their work.

Chairman Harry Gantz's judiciary committee has the rules of civil procedure with which to toy. Thus far, the committee has put in an extra night in reviewing the rules to which objections have been made.

The public health committee, of which Senator Harry Foster is chairman, is sitting tight thus far on the measures dealing with the osteopath-medical profession controversy.

Chairman C. Petrus Peterson's banking group is attempting to correlate the small loan bills, while Chairman Martin Mischke's public works group has become entangled in power and irrigation legislation.

Price of Soft Wheat Flour Is Increased

flour milled east of Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico and south of South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin. (This includes Nebraska.) The forthcoming order on soft wheat will apply generally to soft wheat grown east of the Rocky mountains.

"Higher Than Parity"

One unusual feature of the order was the fact that the new soft wheat flour price will, OPA said, "reflect prices higher than parity, before taking into consideration any of the benefit payments now made to farmers."

Heretofore, OPA and the White house have held that benefit payments to farmers must be deducted from parity levels in fixing the prices of agricultural commodities. However, there were indications of an administration compromise on this policy when the senate voted a few days ago for proposed legislation prohibiting OPA from deducting the benefit payments.

However, in today, order, OPA gave as the reason for choosing the new level of soft wheat flour prices the fact that raising of soft wheat prices in the east has put a severe squeeze on flour millers.

Gandhi Is Reported 'Somewhat Apathetic'

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(INS)—Three days distant from the termination date of his three-week fast, Mahatma Gandhi today was reported "somewhat apathetic and not quite so cheerful," according to the British radio which also said there was "very little change" in his condition.

The British radio report was picked up in New York by the CBS short wave listening station.

TWO ENDURE 19 DAYS IN WILDERNESS

...Legs Broken In Crash

VANCOVER, B. C., Feb. 27 — (INS)—Injured and stranded in a sub-Arctic wilderness for 19 days, two Americans existed until help came by sparing use of food rations aboard their wrecked plane, it was revealed today with arrival of the men at Vancouver.

The survivors are Sgt. Edwin Wilczynski of Nekossa, Wis., and Rupert Alexander, address unknown. Both sustained broken legs when their cargo plane crashed, killing the pilot, John Hart of Minneapolis, and Kenneth W. Jones, the co-pilot, of Elyria, O.

The plane, under U. S. army contract, crashed Feb. 5 in the wilds of northern British Columbia. Rescue parties reached the wreckage Wednesday.

Another cargo plane with 11 persons aboard, still is being sought in northern British Columbia. This plane disappeared Feb. 5.

Allies Repulse Axis In Northern Tunisia

down by mud for many weeks.

Heavy air attacks frequently signal the opening of a new land offensive.

Rommel Keeps Running

The Italians asserted that 22 allied planes were shot down in yesterday's air fighting, and admitted damage and casualties from allied bombing attacks on Bizerte and Gabes.

On the central front, Rommel continued his retreat without any sign of attempting a stand.

British press dispatches said the allies had already occupied Kasserine, thereby cutting off the vital rail link between Rommel's battered tank columns and Col.-Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim's German army in the north.

Other reports said the nazis were destroying stores at Feriana, 18 miles southwest of the Kasserine pass, and dynamiting the airfield at Sbeitla, 18 miles northeast of Kasserine.

Flee Toward Gafsa

This apparently meant that Rommel was withdrawing his forces along both wings as his main armored contingent fled toward Gafsa, 55 miles south of the pass, where he would be in a position either for a swift retreat to the sea or for a dash to combat any break through the Mareth line by the British Eighth army in southern Tunisia.

London press dispatches said Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army troops had penetrated as far as the rocky gorge of Zigzai, which lies immediately before the town of Mareth at the northern end of the Mareth defense works.

Great Bomber Force Smashes At Cologne

Mosquito bombers on Rennes followed by a few hours attacks by American made Ventura bombers on the docks and harbor facilities at Dunkirk. The port was bombed three separate times in the afternoon hours.

The marshalling yards at Rennes are vital to the German submarine campaign. Here are stored everything needed to outfit the enemy U-boats which operate from bases on the French Atlantic coast. The storage sheds cover an area a mile-and-a third long and 500 yards wide. Here are stored diesel motors, submarine parts, oil and gas stocks.

From Rennes rail lines radiate to the nazi-held French bases at Lorient, St. Nazaire and Brest.

Heavy fires were started in the sheds from which flames shot hundreds of feet into the air. One heavy explosion was probably caused by a direct hit on an ammunition dump.

No enemy fighters rose to meet the Mosquitoes at Rennes.

U. S. air force fighters joined RAF and Canadian air force fighter planes in escorting the Ventura bombers to Dunkirk. Here some enemy opposition was encountered and three bombers and two RAF fighters were lost. All American fighters returned safely.

One enemy fighter plane was shot down.

—LEGISLATURE—

Griswold Lauds Legislators For Stand On Deficit

Governor Griswold commended the legislature Saturday on its action in attempting to rectify the deficit in the permanent school fund but hoped that "members won't get too technical."

The unicameral session Friday was the scene of a two hour debate over LB 97 which enables the board of educational lands and funds to sell bonds it now owns and realize a profit of $200,000 because of their tax free status as issues divisions of the state.

The governor declared Saturday that he felt Senator Peterson's amendment to the bill which would add the gain to the permanent school fund as reserve against which losses can be charged and thereby reducing the tax burden on keeping the fund intact, was the "proper accounting attitude."

"But it's about time that the 70-year-old Bartley defalcation was taken care of," the governor continued, "and it's up to the legislature to make it up."

The senate debate on whether Nebraska or U.S. government bonds should be purchased the governor felt was unnecessary, as the two and one-half per cent interest on government bonds stands out as the best business proposal as against the interest rate on municipal bonds.

"It would also be a protection against being accused of trading on the bond market, if only U.S. securities are purchased," he asserted.

Last of Huskers' Season

Nebraska Basketeers Take On Iowa Staters Tonight On U. Coliseum Maples.

Mentor Ad Lewandowski's basketballers in Cornhusker scanties and the Cyclones of Iowa State will square off at 8 o'clock tonight at the university coliseum in the finale of Nebraska's campaign on the home court.

A victory over the Cyclones tonight, plus a win over Oklahoma in the season's climax at Norman Monday night, would give the Huskers a second-place tie in the final conference rankings.

Seniors John Thompson, John Fitzgibbon and Max Young will perform before the home gallery for the last time. Young, a three-year guard mainstay, will captain the crew.

Huskers Seek Revenge.

Revenge for an early-season 50-38 loss at Cyclone hands will be one Cornhusker motive for victory tonight. Since that engagement, however, the Huskers have impressed with two wins over Missouri in league play. Missouri twice has whipped the Cyclones.

An inter-frosh game at 7 o'clock will precede the main show. One frosh team, captained by Johnny Dean of Lincoln, will engage another outfit, led by Dick Thompson, erstwhile Northeast cager.

Probable Lineups.

Doane must now beat Midland next week to tie with York for the conference bunting.

Kearney Cinches Crown.

At Kearney, Center Lloyd McCullough dropped in 22 points for a second time this week as the Antelopes won the N. I. A. A. crown by besting Wayne, 64-50.

Peru's Bobcats outpointed Midland, 44-29, in an inter-conference battle at Peru, Haack leading the scorers with 17 markers for Peru.

Louis No Match For 6 Former Champs

—DUMB DAN MORGAN, RING EXPERT, SO ASSERTS—

BY DILLON GRAHAM.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—There isn't any doubt that Joe Louis is our greatest heavyweight champion since Tunney. He beat all the others. But how would he have fared against the title-holders from Sullivan to Gentleman Gene?

Dumb Dan Morgan says six of them would have taken his measure.

Dumb Dan is dumb like a fox, a smart appraiser of boxers and judge of styles. He is a mild, pleasant little fellow whose eyes flash behind his spectacles as he works himself into excitement describing famous bouts of the old days. A one-time fighter, Morgan managed many boxers two decades ago, including Jack Britton, who he assures you was the smartest fighter that ever lived and the greatest welterweight.

"Why he was world champion at 40. No other fighter ever won a title at that age." But that's another story, and a long one if Dan's telling it.

Six Could Turn Trick.

Morgan has seen all the champions of the Marquis of Queensbury era and he thinks John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett, Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, Jack Johnson and Jack Dempsey would have beaten Louis.

"SULLIVAN, like Louis, was a set hitter," he explains. "Neither had much footwork. John L. was a pretty fair boxer and a straight right hand puncher. Louis wouldn't have sidestepped as Sullivan came in, and I believe John L. would have knocked him out.

"CORBETT would have beaten him on speed and scientific boxing. He would feint him, worry him and stick him all night, for an easy decision.

"FITZ was a short hitter. He shuffled in but was a stationary puncher. He wouldn't have had any trouble hitting Louis with a right and would have kayoed him. No man could do more damage with a single blow.

Jeffries Swift Runner.

"JEFFRIES would have swapped left hand punches with Louis and knocked him out. He was a sharper hitter than Louis, a big fellow of 215 pounds, solid. You couldn't hurt Jeff. And he was fast, few people know that he could run a hundred yards in 10 seconds.

"JOHNSON would have toyed with Louis and won an easy decision. He was the greatest defensive boxer we've had. Jack would have caught Joe's blows on his elbows and hit Louis with uppercuts. Jack had a habit of jabbing you just a trifle to push you off balance just as you were throwing a punch.

"DEMPSEY would have knocked Louis out within four rounds. Jack, weaving and bobbing, would have worked on Joe's middle for the first couple of rounds and then gone for the head.

"The other champions, Louis would have beaten.

Willard No Worry.

"He would have disposed of Willard quickly, just as Dempsey did. Tommy Burns was a pretty fair fighter and a good puncher, but he would have been too little for Louis. Joe has beaten Schmeling, Sharkey, Carnera, Baer and Braddock, and he would have whipped Tunney, too.

"Gene was a countering fighter. Louis would have moved in on him and forced him into mixups. Tunney couldn't hit hard enough to keep Louis off and Joe would have knocked him out. Louis' jab was more powerful than Tunney's.

"Joe would have had trouble finding the speedy Corbett and might never have landed a dangerous blow past Johnson's perfect defense. He might have put up a pretty good fight for a few rounds against the others."

Canadian Captures Decision

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(INS)—Pvt. Johnny Greco of Montreal was headed back to the Canadian army today with a 10-round decision over Cleo Shans to his credit and a fair chance at getting a lightweight title shot at Beau Jack.

As far as Jack and his managers, Check Wergeles, are concerned, there have been no plans completed for the Beau's next "title" defense.

"We'll fight Greco, Willie Pep or anyone else, provided the terms are right," said Wergeles. "I knew nothing about a match with Bob Montgomery being made for the title, May 14, until I read it in the papers. We have not reached any agreement with Promoter Mike Jacobs."

Verdict Unanimous.

Greco, who won the unanimous decision of Judges Joe Agnello and Marty Monroe and Referee Eddie Joseph, punched Shans all over the ring last night in winning his first main event at Madison Square Garden. He did not floor the California colored boy, but was his master, inside and at long range, throughout.

Shans lost the eighth and Greco the ninth round for low punching. All the rest were Greco's rounds on the I. N. S. score-card.

SPORTS Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Thoughts while listening: Branch (two words for the price of one) Rickey is a well-named guy...You ought to hear how he can "branch" off on another subject after starting to answer a question...And if it takes as long to rebuild the Dodgers as to renovate their downtown offices. "them Bums" won't be in the pennant race this year...What with Dolf Camilli's and Arky Vaughan's ranches and the farm that Rufus Melton bought (but can't tell where it is located), the Dodgers are having more "farm" troubles now than when they were operating a dozen minor league clubs...No wonder a scribe suggested they might settle their problems by putting victory gardeners outside Ebbets Field.

DURING the Border conference basketball tournament, the West Texas Buffaloes were having some tough going against Arizona State of Flagstaff...Then Capt. Norman Trimble brought the ball down the floor, yelled "23" and passed to Chat Johnson, who pitched the ball through the basket without even touching the rim...One fan, watching intently, turned to his neighbor and remarked: "There's nothing difficult about that play; they ought to run it again."

COAST GUARDSMAN BILL SHIRLEY (ex-sportswriter and ball player): "The only good thing I can detect in the elimination of baseball is that it would keep the Phillies from winding up in the National league cellar... But, even then, the new proprietors of the club would no doubt be very glad to spend the summer in the cellar if it would aid the cause."

FOR sheer action, last night's Johnny Greco-Cleo Shans fight was the best we've seen this season, but we can't say they're the best fighters...As for Sal Bartolo-Pedro Hernandez, there was no pep, Willie or other, in that one.

FRANK B. WARD, Youngstown (O.) Vindicator: "Since shoe leather is precious, those umpires who order players to take a walk may get in bad with the OPA."

Billy Sixty is a Milwaukee sports writer and bowler. Sixty gave a bowling exhibition at Great Lakes in the afternoon preceding the Marquette-Bradley basketball game, which he reported. Then he bowled in a tournament in Chicago that night, and again on Sunday afternoon.

'Sugar Ray' Has His Revenge

—HARLEM PRIDE PLASTERS LAMOTTA—

DETROIT, Feb. 27—(AP)—Lanky Ray (Sugar) Robinson, probably the best fighter never to have won a championship, is ready to step into a real fight Tuesday as Pvt. Walker Smith of the U. S. army after wiping his slate clean with a decisive victory over tough Jacob Lamotta, whom he spotted an advantage of 15¾ pounds.

Robinson, the pride of New York's Harlem and uncrowned king of the welterweights, cleaned up on unfinished business as a champion should by getting off the floor to outpunch Lamotta, the one-man riot from the Bronx, before 15,149 spectators who paid $60,710 at Olympia stadium last night. Lamotta weighed 160¾.

The verdict received the unanimous support of Referee Sam Hennessy and the two judges, and it amply avenged Sugar Ray's only setback in a 132-fight career at Lamotta's hands three weeks ago. Hennessy gave Robinson five rounds, Lamotta three—including the seventh, when he had the sugar boy on the deck for an eight-count—with two even. Neither judge gave Lamotta more than two rounds.

In his dressing room, Robinson, a former Detroit newsboy who had beaten jolting Jacob last fall in New York, just bubbled all over with elation.

Many customers had roundly booed the verdict, probably because Lamotta had gathered a huge personal following here, but Robinson didn't seem to mind.

Both boys will feel much better today when they stop by to pick up checks for $15,000 each. The gate was smaller than expected, but it still topped the amount Joe Louis drew in his sole indoor heavyweight title defense here against Abe Simon in 1941.

Sugar Ray's strategy was superb. From the opening bell he kept jabbing his famed lightning left into Jacob's face.

When Lamotta rushed in to open a body attack, Sugar Ray stepped back and greeted him with a blistering right uppercut. This gave him a wide early lead.

Lamotta, drawing on superior weight, grew stronger as the fight progressed, and in the seventh he dropped Robinson in his own corner with a straight left. Sugar Ray took the count calmly and, after the intermission, seized the initiative in the last three heats.

Going into the army, Robinson's record reads: 131 victories, 95 by knockouts and one defeat. That will do until something better comes along.

Adds Adam To Arena's Mat Show

Popular demand has induced Promoter Adam Krieger to revamp next Tuesday's arena grapple card to include Jerry Adam, former Cornhusker wrestling coach.

Headlining the card will be Maurice Tillet, better known as "The Angel," going up against Ras Samara. The closest approach to the "missing link" ever known by man, "The Angel" will put his 285 pounds in action for a two-of-three-falls engagement.

Jerry Takes On Zaronis

Adam has been signed to meet Gus Zaronis, Chicago husky, in the semi-winder, while Lord Albert Mills and Billy Bartuch will perform in the curtain-raiser.

Professor Krieger has been forced to cancel the appearance of Ron Etcheson and Joe Dusek.

"It won't be practical for me to stage four matches," he said, "because of the stiff guarantee 'The Angel' is receiving."

Harry Cadell of Des Moines will perform the third-man duties Tuesday.

Links In Climax Win

—Falls City No Match—

LINCOLN high definitely asserted itself as a seeded entry in the oncoming state cage tourney by thumping Falls City, 31-17, last night on the Irving maples.

Hitherto beaten only narrowly by Creighton Prep and Fairbury, the Jeffs withered before a constant Red and Black basket barrage and an effective man-to-man defense.

Mentor Lyle Weyand assigned his able defensive guard, Dick Lodge, to the taks of smothering touted Joe Hebenstreit, essential ingredient of the Bengal offensive. Lodge's airtight maneuvers held the Falls City ace to a mere six counters for the evening. With their key-gun jammed, Jug Brown's lads simply could't cope with the sharp-shooting Links.

Return of Don McArthur to full efficiency allotted the Links their decisive margin. Fully recovered from a sprained ankle, McArthur contributed 11 well-spaced tallies to major the Red and Black offensive. Speedy Bobby Jacobsen backed McArthur with eight points.

Only Falls City cager able to score over two field goals was Paul Sailors, ball-handler de luxe. Diminutive Ted Wing, Bengal forward, was all over the floor defensively. Score:

Rockets Battle Crete High With Title In Sight

"The boys are determined to finish with a win," said Cliff Bosley, Northeast coach today. Bosley was referring to the pending Crete-Rocket battle, dated for the Northeast court tonight. Gametime is 8:20.

Bosley indicated that the Rockets would supplant their "delayed" offensive with a fast-break game tonight. Five straight defeats prior to the recent victory over Fairbury necessitated the change of offensive strategy.

On top of the Mid-East conference with four straight wins, the Bosley club can cinch the pennant with Crete's scalp tonight.

Victtory tonight will give Northeast a seasonal record of 12 victories against seven defeats.

Death Is Near For Veteran of National Game

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 27—(AP)—Jimmy Collins, one of baseball's greatest third-basemen and manager of the 1903 Boston Red Sox—first team ever to win a world series—is critically ill of pneumonia in a Buffalo hospital.

Collins' physician said last night his chances of recovery are "very slight." Illness struck the 73-year-old revolutionizer of third base play only a short time after old-time fans renewed a movement to have his name placed in baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y. Nominated in 1935, he failed to receive sufficient votes. Jimmy closed his career in the majors in 1908. He is credited with being the first third-baseman to play away from the bag and the first to master a defense against bunts.

Game killed by Illinois hunters in 1942 weighed 5,500,000 after being dressed. Hook and line fishermen added 5,000,000 pounds.

Nibs Price, California basketball coach 19 years, never played the game he teaches.

11 Champs Crowned In B Division

With 11 championships already decided, the Nebraska high school class B district basketball tournaments go into the last round tonight, with 21 final games on the card.

The 32 winners will be pitted in four-team playoffs to start Wednesday at sites to be announced Monday. Finals in the playoffs will be held next Saturday, with the eight winners coming to the state university in Lincoln for the state tournament finals on March 11, 12 and 13.

Ten champions were decided Friday night and one Thursday night. Of the other games last night, 36 were semi-finals and eight were second-rounders.

'Big Six' Crown Grabbed Again By Kansas Uni.

LAWRENCE, Kas., Feb. 27—(AP)—Kansas university annexed its fourth straight Big Six basketball championship last night, defeating the Oklahoma Sooners 42-35. The Jayhawkers likewise kept an unspotted conference record for the season.

The tilt was climaxed by a brief fistic rumpus between A. D. Roberts, Sooner forward, and Bill Brill, Kansas guard, who exchanged blows in front of the scorekeeper's bench with less than 10 seconds left in the game. Later, the two players shook hands.

The Jayhawkers played cautiously and scoring was slow in the firt half, with only three points being tallied in the opening seven minutes.

Kansas Enters Negro Runner In 'Big Six' Indoor

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27—(AP)—For the first time in Big Six history, a negro may compete in a conference sport tonight.

Roger Whitworth, a negro dashman from Kansas university, will be entered in the quarter and half-mile events if the Big Six faculty representatives in their meeting today pass Kansas' resolution that no athlete may be barred from competition because of race.

Whitworth is a transfer from Marquette university and has run the 440 in less than 50 seconds.

STARS IN SERVICE

Bluebirds v. Mead Hi In B Final

CONSOLATION.
7:30—Concordia vs. Sprague-Martel.
FINAL.
8:30—Cathedral vs. Mead.

It's sharp-shooting ability versus height in the finals of the district class B court tourney tonight on the Nebraska Wesleyan court.

The sharp-shooting exploited by the Cathedral high Bluebirds was sufficient on Wesleyan maples Friday night to remove a fine Concordia of Seward five from the tournament, 37-26.

Height, illustrated by Mead, was the big asset as Wayne Carlson led his hehemoth Mead colleagues to a 29-16 victory over Sprague-Martel to earn a berth in the finals.

Hot Bluebird Trio.

Cathedral's Minton-Costello-McGovern offensive trio scored 33 of 37 tallies to keep their club ahead of Concordia over the entire route. Concordia trailed 26-9 at the intermission, then outscored the Bluebirds, 16-11, during the final stanzas.

Carlson and McClay of Mead may equal Cathedral's "big three" front-line trio. Both Mead hoopsters scored 12 points each during the Sprague-Martel fracas.

Bob Ginn Weary From Long Ride To Garden Race

Bobby Ginn Sat Up 2 Nights In Day Coach On His Way To Run In A. A. U. Mile.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—If Pvt. Bobby Ginn of Stinson Field, Tex., and University of Nebraska, displays the same staying qualities tonight in the national A. A. U. one-mile championship as he did in traveling to New York, he likely will succeed Gil Dodds as the year's indoor titleholder.

Ginn sat up in a day coach for two days and a night to get here from San Antonio and then took a workout at Madison Square Garden before starting to catch up on his sleep.

Meet Features.

What success or failure Ginn and such other milers as Earl Mitchell of Indiana and Frank Dixon of New York university have against Dodds, whose home is Falls City, Neb., will feature the annual meet, along with Cornelius Warmerdam's efforts in the pole vault, Greg Rice's antics in the three-mile run and the New York Athletic club's bid for its twelfth straight team title.

Dodds again is the man to beat in the mile. He is the defending champion, having surprised Leslie MacMitchell a year ago in a 4:08.7 sprint. Dixon, who has won once and been consistently close in the two other big miles of the winter, figures to be his hottest rival.

'Big Six' Likely Suspend

Conference Faculty Heads Expected to Drop Sports Account War Problems.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27—(AP)—Big Six conference teams hold their annual indoor meet in Kansas City's municipal auditorium tonight, and it may be the conference's last activity until the war ends.

H. H. King of Kansas State, chairman of the Big Six faculty representatives' council, said last night the members would meet today to decide if the league should drop intercollegite sports for the duration. Pre-meeting indications point to a majority vote to suspend.

Missouri is expected to hustle away with the track title, for the Tigers seem to have everything in a year when all the other schools find track rationed—and short rationed at that.

Six Times Winner.

Much of the interest tonight will center on Missouri's newest flash, Maurice Alexander, a transfer from William Jewell college at Liberty, Mo. Alexander has won six events this year without too much opposition, winning the broad jump, the low hurdles and the high hurdles in dual meets with Kansas State and Nebraska.

Even if the conference representatives decide to carry on, this will be Alexander's last shot indoors. He used all but one year of his eligibility before matriculating at Missouri.

Shot-Putting Duel.

Nebraska's Vic Schleich and Missouri's Elmer Aussieker will renew their shot-putting argument tonight. In 10 previous heavings, Aussieker leads, 6 to 4. But Schleich has the last lick. His 48 feet 9¼ inch toss in the Nebraska-Missouri dual meet was an inch and a quarter better than Aussieker's.

Nebraska is defending champion indoors, but in view of what happened when it met Missouri, 78 1/3 to 25 2/3, the Huskers seem almost certain to lose their title.

VALLEY CAGE TITLE In CREIGHTON'S BAG

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 27—(AP)—Undisputed possession of the Missouri Valley conference basketball title rested with Creighton university's Bluejays today after a 51-36 victory over the Washington university Bears last night.

The win saves the Jays the trouble of beating St. Louis U. tonight for possession of the championship. Last night's win was Creighton's ninth straight in the valley loop, and its seventeenth triumph in 18 games this season.

Guard Ward Gibson of Creighton dumped in 16 points for the scoring honors, while Mike Todorovich of Washington bucketed 11.
